BISMARCK, NORTH DAKOTA, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 10, 1920

AIRPLANES FOR
STATE'S GUARD
UNDER NEW PLANNorth Dakota Wins Out in Lively Competition With Other States

NEW ORGANIZATION

Suggestion Made That Winter
Training Be Given in South
for New Guard

North Dakota's National Guard, under a new plan announced today by Adjut. G. A. Fraser, will have an airplane unit. The unit will consist of one observation squadron, of 31 officers, 132 men and 13 airplanes, and an air park, composed of 3 officers and 12 men.

The competition for the aero squadrons in the Thirty-fifth division was keen. North Dakota and Minnesota being awarded the units.

Plans to organize the National Guard in North Dakota under the new plan announced at a conference held in Omaha, at which Adjut. Gen. Fraser and Major Harold Sorenson represented the state, will be put into effect immediately. There will be virtually no change in existing units, but the whole plan of guard organization is enlarged.

North Dakota is in the Thirty-fourth division, with South Dakota, Minnesota and Iowa, and these four states with Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri are in the Seventh army corps, and the eight states, with others, comprise the Third army.

North Dakota's units are as follows:

Division troops	Men
1 Infantry regiment (Attached 30.)	139
1 Ambulance company	5
1 Hospital battalion headq.	5
1 Hospital company, motorized	5

Corps Troops	Men
1 Battalion 155 howitzers, motorized (Attached 5.)	30
2 Truck companies, artillery	8
1 Ammunition company, artillery	8

Army Troops	Men
1 Battalion horse artillery (Attached 18.)	52
1 Observation squadron (Attached 4.)	13
1 Air park (Attached 3.)	17
1 Veterinary evacuation hospital (Attached 5.)	24

Peace Strength	Men
The peace strength to which Adjut. Gen. Fraser will seek to bring the state guard is 1,000.

The plan is outlined at the Omaha conference as tentative to a degree, but it is believed by the militia bureau heads that Congress will authorize their completion.

A suggestion was made at the conference, which may be developed into the system of training, that the north-west troops engage in maneuvers in the south two or three weeks in the winter, it being held that men in the northwest, many of whom are engaged in agriculture, are better able to give the time to drill than in the winter.

It is contemplated that the troops required under the allotment which is provided with equipment such as hospital equipment will also be drilled as infantry, so that they may be used as infantry in emergencies.

Infantry Regiment
The regiment of infantry, under the plan, would be composed of a regimental headquarters of five officers, three battalions, each having 15 officers and 427 men; battalion headquarters of 4 officers and 44 men each; three rifle companies of 3 officers and 100 men each; a machine gun company of 2 officers and 70 men; a howitzer company of 2 officers and 60 men; a headquarters company of 2 officers and 70 men; an administration company of 3 officers and 150 men; 1 chaplain and attached medical and dental officers and men.

About the only change made from the present infantry organization of the state is that there will be three machine gun companies instead of one, and nine infantry companies instead of twelve.

Review of Situation
A review of the guard situation, as given by the Adjutant General's office, follows:

Under the provisions of the national Defense act, as amended by the Act of Congress approved June 4, 1920, the United States is now divided, with reference to military population, into nine administrative areas, which are to be known as Corps Areas. They are to be known as Corps Areas. They are to be known as Corps Areas. They are to be known as Corps Areas.

The first, Second and Third Corps areas constitute the First Army area; the Fourth, fifth and Sixth, the Second Army area; and the Seventh, eighth and ninth, the Third Army area.

It is now proposed to station in each corps area one or more tactical units of the Regular Army, National Guard or Organized Reserve divisions, each, together with a balance of field army and general headquarters reserve troops.

The principle upon which this adjustment has been prepared contemplates a peace time organization of the state guard.

MEMORIAL SUNDAY SERVICES TO TAKE PLACE OF ARMISTICE DAY OBSERVANCEAmerican Legion, War Mothers, Other War Organizations and Public Invited to Join in Observance to be Held at Presbyterian Church Sunday Night

Armistice day, Nov. 11, being a legal holiday, banks and public offices will be closed.

There will be no celebration in Bismarck in honor of the second anniversary of the signing of the armistice which ended fighting in the world war. Instead, the American Legion, War Mothers and public will combine in a Memorial service on Sunday, Nov. 14.

Many flags will fly in recognition of the day. Services are to be held in many parts of the state. The state war mother requested that services be held by the war mothers between 10:30 and 11 a. m. on the day, and these will be held in many parts of the state. But in Bismarck they are postponed until Sunday.

War mothers and the members of Lloyd Spetz Post, American Legion, are expected to occupy seats in a body at the First Presbyterian church for the service Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m. The public is invited. All war organizations are invited to participate in the service, grouping the membership in bodies if they desire.

The joint choir of the church are arranging special music for the evening. Rev. H. C. Postluth, pastor, will deliver short addresses.

Many Bismarck speakers have been invited to make talks in other cities on Armistice Day. William Langer will speak at Devils Lake, Albert E. Sheets, Jr., will speak at Beach, P. G. Harrington will speak at Wahpeton and Major Frank Henry has been invited to deliver an out-of-town address.

Private Legal Notices May Be Published in Other Than Official Paper

It is probable that an appeal will be issued to counties, cities and school districts to "go slow" in drawing their money out of the bank of North Dakota, as they will be permitted to do, when the initiated law approved by the voters becomes effective Dec. 2, if the canvassing board has completed its work by that time.

Although no official statement on the subject has been issued by the bank officials or the industrial commission, it is pointed out by some that the bank might be temporarily affected if millions of dollars of deposits were withdrawn in a lump sum. It would affect the distribution of deposits to banks of the state, most of the money being in banks on deposit.

The present bank law provides that "real estate loans may not exceed 30 per cent. of the bank capital nor more than 20 per cent. of its deposits. The bank has never lost the maximum of real estate loans provided by law."

It is probable some effort will be made to dispose of bonds and to make a real rural credits institution out of the bank.

What Law Says
The law initiated provides that: "All state funds, and funds of all state penal, educational and industrial institutions shall be, by the persons having control of such funds, deposited in the bank of North Dakota."

It is not improbable that this law will go to the supreme court and an effort made to have funds of school districts declared to come under the law of money of educational institutions.

Real Estate Loans
The law regarding real estate loans, which was voted on favorably by the people, says:

"Section 1—The bank of North Dakota shall make real estate loans only to actual farmers who are residents of this state."

"Section 2—All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed."

The intention of the measure was to prohibit the loaning of money on real estate to any person except an actual resident farmer of the state.

Private Legal Notices
Under the newspaper law approved by the voters, all private legal notices may be published in the paper in which the person making the notices desires.

When the law becomes effective on Dec. 2, private legal notices, for example, may be published in The Tribune or in any other newspaper. The law was designed to limit the compulsory printing for official newspapers to the county and city official notices.

The law which the voters approved regarding the powers and duties of the superintendent of public instruction, will give Miss Minnie J. Nielson the power of supervising the certification of teachers.

The section provides with regard to the superintendent of public instruction: "He shall have charge and supervision of the certification of teachers, standardization of schools and uniformity of text books, examinations for eighth grade and high school pupils and preparation of courses of study for the several classes of public schools."

It is probable that the great bunch of records taken out of Miss Nielson's office after she was elected will now have to be returned.

Examination of Bank
How soon an examination will be made of the bank of North Dakota depends on what course may be followed by those who oppose an examination by the board as constituted under the law. The board is composed of the state auditor, attorney general and state auditor.

These officials are now at the state capital. They will be D. C. Poindexter, William Lemke and Thomas Hall.

If the canvassing board completes its work by December 2nd as it should, the board composed of Lemke, Kositzky and Hall would be charged with the duty of making an examination which they might do immediately.

Canvassing boards are meeting in all counties of the state this week. The boards were to have met yesterday. The Burleigh county board was to meet today to go over the vote in this county.

TARPON FISHING HAS CHARMS FOR SEN. HARDING

Yesterday's ray of tarpon fishing made him a staunch devotee of the sport and his friends predicted that during the remainder of his vacation here he would give very little time to any other form of recreation.

Senator Harding is to stay at Brownsville at an Armistice day celebration.

1068 TIMES!

CAPT. A. R. MILLS

NEW YORK.—This man, Captain Arthur R. Mills, has crossed the Atlantic 1068 times! He has been with the American line for 11 years, during which time his cross-Atlantic service has resulted in his steaming more than 3,000,000 miles, a distance equal to 128 times around the world. His vessels have carried more than half a million people, and without the loss of a single life. He was given the Cross of the Legion of Honor by France in 1917 for towing the disabled cruiser "Jeanne d'Arc" 400 miles to the Azores. Captain Mills, who has just retired, has sailed for England to take a holiday rest in the country of his birth.

Presidential electors "got by" in the campaign in North Dakota with least expense of all candidates, according to expense statements filed with the secretary of state as required by law. None of them spent anything.

None of the candidates who have filed statements say they spent more than $1,000 in the campaign. J. F. T. O'Connor, independent candidate for governor, spent $690, according to his statement. Governor Frazier's expense account has not been filed as yet.

Mr. O'Connor lists as expenses $100 for printing, $75 for literary, $50 for railroad fare, $30 for stenographic and clerk hire and $375 for other expenses. He lists as contributors to his campaign fund $25 from S. Clifford, $15 from L. Murphy, $50 from L. Niemeyer and $100 from M. Murphy.

Cost Around $907.
George M. Young, successful candidate for Congress in the Second district, filed the largest expense account of those thus far filed. He spent $997.51 to obtain the election of which postage amounted to $133.39. Miss Minnie J. Nielson spent $14.50 for railroad fare and $4.50 for hotel bills. H. D. Albert, of Langdon, candidate for railroad commissioner, spent a total of $287.00. J. T. Nelson, candidate for commissioner of agriculture and labor, spent $109.74. Thomas Hill, successful candidate for secretary of state, spent $78.55; John Steen, successful candidate for treasurer, spent $25 as a campaign contribution; Carl Kristitzky, candidate for auditor, spent $28.17, and Dr. E. F. Ladd, successful candidate for United States senator, spent $154.00.

Charles M. Whitmer, of Oliver county, candidate for representative on the Nonpartisan league ticket, is the only one of the league candidates to put the secret caucus pledge in his statement under the heading of pledges and promises. He modified it, however, by saying merely that he promised "that I will stick to the N. P. league program and principles and use my best efforts to further the interests of the people of North Dakota."

Success Cheapest
A peculiar feature of the statements thus far filed is that most of the candidates who were successful spent less money than the unsuccessful candidates. W. H. Statesman, high man for railroad commissioner, spent but $50.

Among the district judges, Judge A. T. Cole listed his expenses as $15; Charles S. Ego gave his as $63.37 and Judge J. A. Coffey spent $78.50.

L. E. Heaton, candidate for representative from Burleigh county spent but $17.50 in his campaign.

COOPERATION SOLVES PROBLEM IN CALIFORNIA

Thousands of Farmers Use This Method to Secure Free, Fair Markets

25 ASSOCIATIONS

Citrus Growers Alone Marketed $50,000,000 of Their Product Last Year

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 9.—More than half the farmers in California sell their products through co-operative marketing associations, according to statistics being gathered by attorneys for some of the organizations.

There are about twenty-five active associations, these figures show, which in some cases, control as high as 90 per cent of their particular crop and which range in activity from mere sales agencies to organizations that pack, distribute and advertise their products and even possess lumber mills to make their own box shooks.

Marketed 50 Million

The California Fruit Growers exchange, which marketed $50,000,000 of citrus fruits last year from the orchards of 12,000 members handling 70 per cent of the California orange and lemon crop is the patriarch of the association. It not only sells fruit but marmalade and fruit juices as well, and through a subsidiary concern secures box shooks and other packing materials.

Among the other associations with the number of members their volume of business last year and the proportion of the total crop they controlled, are: California Associated Raisin Company, 10,000 members, $33,000,000—85%; California Prune and Apricot Growers, Inc., 10,800 members, $22,000,000, 80 per cent; California Pear Growers Inc., 7,500 members, $10,000 to $12,000,000, 75 per cent; California Almond Growers Exchange, 3,578 members, $5,000,000 80 per cent.

The Central California Poultry Producers, Inc., who sold nine million dozen eggs last year claim to be the largest single concern in the United States handling poultry products and the second largest in the world, being surpassed only by a Danish co-operative concern.

No Association

Hog raisers have no association of their own, but a marketing association of the farm bureau of seven counties in the San Joaquin valley sold $1,447,449 worth of hogs last year for the farm bureau members.

The growers of annual crops such as vegetables who can turn their land to other uses without loss or delay are about the only ones who have not been successful in forming organizations, the statistics indicate, although bean and lima bean growers have been able to support marketing associations. Potato and tomato growers' associations do not exist, although berry growers are organized and in central California have accomplished the feat of combining American and Japanese farmers in one concern.

A NASTY COLD EASED AT ONCE

"Pape's Cold Compound" then breaks up a cold in a few hours

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks up a severe cold and ends all gripe misery.

The very first dose opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head, stops nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—insist upon Pape's.

WARSAW MENACED, SHE "CARRIED ON"

NEW YORK—Mrs. W. Palmer Fuller, who was inspector for the American Relief Administration in the Warsaw district, has just returned to this country. Mrs. Fuller climaxed 18 months of hard service in Poland by staying on the job when the Reds menaced the city in their recent drive for Warsaw. Her husband, Lieutenant Fuller of San Francisco, was Hoover's chief agent in Poland.

Many of the organizations spend large amounts in advertising. The raisin company spent $150,000 last year, the prune and apricot growers $500,000, the walnut association $150,000, while 22 per cent of the annual citrus crop return is devoted to advertising and one per cent a pound of the almond exchange go for the same purpose.

The value of vineyards, according to a statement from the raisin company, has increased from $300 an acre in 1913 to $1,000 an acre in 1920. Prune growers report and advance from $500 to $750 an acre for orchards in 1917 to 1920 price of from $2,000 to $4,000 an acre. Other associations make similar claims.

Report Shows That Total Losses Sustained During Year Are 14,424

The hail season of 1920 has been rather severe in comparison with that of 1919, according to the preliminary report of Martin S. Hagen, manager of the state hail insurance department.

"This is shown by the fact that the department had reported 14,424 losses in 1920 as compared to 12,862 in 1919, or an increase of 1,562 losses, the report says. "The fact that we have been able to secure the services of better adjusters and have supervised the work more carefully has made it possible to make fairer adjustments than even those of last year, and for that reason the total amount of indemnity allowed will be considerably less in 1920 than in 1919, though the number of losses was greater."

The number of acres insured in 1920 is about the same as in 1919, or 12,132,974 acres.

"All this is subject to the hail indemnity tax and, though it had been rumored that the tax would be greater this year, we are glad to be able to announce that the tax rate is identical to that of last year; namely, 25 cents per acre. This is in addition to the flat tax of 3 cents per acre on all tillable lands," the report continues.

The hail insurance fund receipts for 1920 show: receipts on 3 cent tax on 27,812,395 acres, $81,301.35; 25-cent tax on 12,132,974 acres, $3,033,245.60.

Expenditures—payment of 14,424 losses, $3,472,830.42; estimated interest at 6 per cent per annum, $130,223.64; for anticipated abatements and refunds, and for maintenance expense, $260,590.29.

Mr. Hagen declares the ratio of overhead expense to receipts will be 2.85 per cent, and declares that the private company's overhead expenses run from 25 to 40 per cent as compared with the state 2.85 per cent.

Edison Was Right Again

THE prices of Edison Phonographs have increased less than 15% since 1914, and a substantial part of this increase is the 5% tax, which the Edison Laboratories pay to the Government.

The Edison Phonograph of today is a better phonograph and a better value than the Edison Phonograph of 1914. On the other hand, the dollar of today is worth, in purchasing power, only a little more than half as much as the dollar of 1914. Therefore, if you buy an Edison Phonograph at this time, you are virtually buying a before-the-war value, with an after-the-war dollar.

Why it is that Edison did not increase his prices and how did he avoid the necessity of doing so? Any commercial agency and practically any investment banker can ascertain for you that the Edison Phonograph Laboratories were doing business, in 1914, on a narrower margin of profit than was true of any of the other established phonograph, or talking machine, manufacturers. How, then, did Edison manage to avoid an increase in his selling prices?

The story is dramatically interesting. The following is only the essence of it:

When the United States of America entered the Great War, Mr. Edison dropped all his work at the Edison Laboratories and enlisted in the army of American ingenuity, who pitted themselves so successfully against the world-famed German scientists. Cardinal Mercier, on his recent visit to America, credited Mr. Edison with a large share in winning the war for the Allies. The New York American of September 5th describes, at length, some of the inventions, which Mr. Edison developed and placed at the disposal of the Government. In this article, the New York American states that Mr. Edison appears to have been the moving spirit of the Naval Consulting Board of the United States.

When Mr. Edison gave up his own business for the business of the Nation, a very critical situation existed in his Manufacturing Laboratories, due to their inability to obtain various materials, and the necessity of finding satisfactory substitutes for such materials. If there was ever a time in Mr. Edison's career, when his personal attention to his business was required, it was when he went to war. Thomas A. Edison had reason to believe that he was risking enormous losses by deserting his business, at the particular time in question, but he did not hesitate, and his example had a remarkable influence on the men and women, who remained behind.

From the humblest workman to the highest paid executive in the Edison organization, everyone seemed determined "to make good, while the Old Man was away." Vacations were passed up and doctor's orders were ignored by zealous employees, and, as a result, the Edison Manufacturing Laboratories were one of the few manufacturing concerns in the United States, where there was no loss of efficiency, during the war, and where there was, in fact, an increase in efficiency.

During the war, Mr. Edison spent most of his time on the sea coast or at sea. On those rare occasions, when he visited the Edison Laboratories, it was difficult to gain his attention, for more than a few minutes, with reference to business matters. He did, however, state that the Edison Phonograph was his pet invention and he hoped that his business associates would be able, in some way or other, to avoid any increase in price, and that, if there must be an increase, he wanted such increase to be just as small as it could possibly be made. Mr. Edison said: "I am willing to stand the gaff. Music is an important thing. Let us make it as easy as possible for people to have music in their homes in these nerve-racking days."

What was the result? The wonderful realism of the New Edison, "The Phonograph with a Soul," made it desired above all other phonographs, and its sale was stimulated by the fact that the increase in price was negligible. The demand soon far outstripped the supply. Overhead and sales expense were reduced to the minimum and, thanks to Mr. Edison's willingness to absorb a large share of the increased cost of manufacture, it was possible for the Edison Laboratories, by accepting a merely nominal profit, to avoid any substantial increase in the selling price of the Edison Phonograph.

It will be many years before the general level of commodity prices is as low as the present price of the Edison Phonograph. Leading bankers have expressed themselves as willing to lend money on Edison Phonographs, because they know the selling prices of Edison Phonographs are not going to be reduced.

Let us reiterate that when you buy an Edison Phonograph today you buy a before-the-war value with an after-the-war dollar. If you have any fear that there may be a reduction in the prices of Edison Phonographs, we are prepared to give you full assurance on that point.

Increased Efficiency Imperative

MR. H. H. HILL, Chemical Engineer of the Bureau of Mines, in discussing the future of gasoline says: "It is up to the refiners to extract more of petroleum's useful factors from the crude."

This he says can be effected through efficient management and by improved methods of cracking and blending.

Mr. Hill thus expresses the opinion which has dominated the policy of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) for many years and has enabled this Company to raise its efficiency peak year after year.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been a leader in developing processes to increase the yield of gasoline from crude oil.

The best known and most successful of its improvements is the Burton process, originated in the laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

Speaking of the Burton process, Mr. Hill says that "since it was first installed on a commercial scale it has produced approximately 40 million barrels of gasoline from heavy distillates, and has thus saved approximately 150 million barrels of crude that would have been necessary to produce an equivalent amount of gasoline."

This vast saving has been accomplished without sacrificing quality.

Red Crown, the motor gasoline, made and sold by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is acknowledged by petroleum chemists and other authorities to be the standard fuel for motor cars. It more than meets Government specifications, which require an initial of not more than 140 degrees F; 20 percent off at 221 degrees; 50 percent off at 284 degrees; 90 percent off at 374 degrees; and a dry point (complete vaporization) at not more than 437 degrees F.

During the semi-annual test conducted in July 1920, the average for Red Crown Gasoline showed an initial of 102 degrees F; 20 percent off at 210; 50 percent off at 281; 90 percent off at 387; and a dry point of 427 degrees F.

This shows an initial 38 degrees better than Government specifications, which means easy starting; 20 percent off at 11 degrees better than Government specifications; 50 percent off at 3 degrees better than Government specifications; and 90 percent off thirteen degrees higher than Government specifications, which is more than made up by the 10 degrees difference in dry point.

This proves that, notwithstanding the greatly increased quantity of gasoline which this Company is able to take from the crude, it has in no way sacrificed quality, and is another indication that the large scale operations of this Company have worked to the distinct advantage of every user of gasoline.

25-CENT MEAL TO BE EATEN BY HOTEL MEN

New York, Nov. 9.—Hotel proprietors attending the fifth national hotel men's exposition will partake of a 25-cent meal on Ellis Island this week on the invitation of Frederick Wallace, immigration commissioner. Reports to the hotel men that the island's chef could concoct a repast for that sum and still claim a profit is said to have prompted the invitation and also the acceptance.

Edward M. Tierney, chairman of the exposition, said today recommended that hoteliers cut the price of bridal suites both in order to encourage matrimony and as a part of the general price-cutting program.

STATE BUREAU FOR FARMERS BEING FORMED

Representatives of 21 North Dakota Counties are Meeting Today

PLAN IS OUTLINED

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 10.—Representatives of 21 North Dakota counties met at the North Dakota Agricultural college to organize a North Dakota Federation of Farm Bureaus.

Each of the 16 county farm bureaus in the state sent delegates and five other delegates attended from other counties in which farm bureaus are in the process of formation.

C. W. Gunnella, of Chicago, assistant secretary of the American Farm Bureau federation, outlined the policies of that organization at the meeting this morning.

Dr. E. F. Ladd, president of the agricultural college, said in welcoming the delegates:

"I do not believe it is the intention of the farmers to hold up the American people. They have a right to say however, 'my wheat cost me a much to produce. I will consider a much a fair price and will sell it to that price.'"

SELLING ORGANIZATION

Boston, Nov. 10.—The establishment of nation-wide selling organizations which shall fix the price of farm products if the farmer does not have the same pay for his produce, was predicted today by Sherman Lowell, of Fredonia, New York, master of the National Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry, in opening the national convention of the grange.

"We are willing to have a fair understanding of values, the farmers receiving the same pay for the same hours of work as others receive—no more, no less, but we feel that this is the last call," he said. "If no attention is paid to this now by bankers, manufacturers, railroad and labor organizations, and if the government continues to use its great power to import raw material free of duty to reduce costs, then the grange will be the first to help organize nation-wide selling organizations to control the price of farm products."

"There is no threat to this—we will have been driven to self-defense to preserve ourselves."

VIRGIN ISLANDS WET

Eighteenth Amendment Has No Meaning in New Possessions.

Only Place Under the American Flag Where Prohibition is Not Being Enforced.

San Juan, P. R.—Probably the only place under the American flag where prohibition is not now in force is in the Virgin Islands where, until Congress enacts new laws, the old Danish laws remain in force.

The colonial council of St. Croix has just passed a bill repealing former local legislation for that island which provided for local prohibition until a specified period after the ending of the war.

Similar legislation is pending in the colonial council for the islands of St. Thomas and St. John.

The treaty of sale by which the islands were transferred from Denmark to the United States provided that laws in force at the time of the transfer should remain in full force and effect until Congress enacted special legislation for the islands. This has not yet been done.

In the meantime the Constitution of the United States, in all of its provisions, is not applicable to the islands and the eighteenth amendment has no meaning there.

As a war measure the colonial council, the local lawmaking bodies, passed prohibition acts to be enforced during the war. As a result St. Thomas, where champagne sold for $1 a bottle and other liquors were equally expensive, and the two other islands gradually became dry.

Merchants in St. Thomas whose business is largely that of supplying ships stores have contended that prohibition was one of their greatest hardships, while the sugar makers of St. Croix were deprived of a lucrative trade in an important by-product of sugar when they were forced to cease making rum. With war prohibition removed by local legislation, rum making has already been resumed.

Indirectly, however, the Virgin Islands are feeling the force of the United States prohibition laws.

Prohibition Director Donaldson has refused to permit the shipment of alcohol to St. Thomas from here to be used in the manufacture of rum unless manufacturers bind themselves to denature their product so that it can not be used for beverage purposes. The manufacture of rum is one of the chief industries of St. Thomas and St. John.

RED CROSS DAY NEXT SUNDAY BY PROCLAMATION

Governor Frazier Issues Proclamation on Red Cross Drive

Sunday, Nov. 14, is designated as Red Cross Sunday in a proclamation issued by Governor Frazier. The proclamation follows:

"The American Red Cross as a wartime auxiliary to our military and naval forces performed a wonderful service. So indispensable did it become that with the signing of the armistice its work was not ended, and to date there is still abundant opportunity and a large field for its successful operation.

Through its perfected organization, relief is being provided for the needy and suffering; health and social centers are being built up; and a program of Americanization is being carried out in many counties of our state. Red Cross nurses and social workers have been placed and are kept constantly busy giving instructions in public health work, emergency nursing and helping to solve the great social problems of the day.

"The fourth annual roll call of the Red Cross opens on Armistice Day, continuing through Thanksgiving Day, and in accordance with the request of the National Red Cross I hereby designate and proclaim SUNDAY, NOVEMBER FOURTEENTH as RED CROSS SUNDAY. Also in consideration of the excellent work and constructive program of this great humanitarian organization, I urge and recommend that as far as possible each individual within the community become a member and take an active part in building up and maintaining the Red Cross in North Dakota."

RULING FIXES TIME OFFICIAL PAPERS START

Langer Says They Can Print Notices as Soon as County Auditor Gives Word

A newspaper successful in the contest for the selection of official newspapers in North Dakota becomes the official newspaper as soon as the county auditor shall issue a certificate of election, according to an opinion given by William Langer, attorney-general.

"Under chapter 186 of the 1919 session laws, which creates the state publication and printing commission, and more especially section 4 which gave the commissioners of printing the power to designate in every county of the state a newspaper, which shall be the official newspaper, it is provided that the paper designated shall be the official newspaper in each county in which it is designated, until its success or shall be chosen, as provided by law," says the attorney-general's opinion.

Continuing he says: "In chapter 187 of the 1919 session laws, which law provides for the election of official newspapers, section 4 provides as follows:

"Canvass of Vote. Such newspaper in such county receiving the highest number of votes cast for official newspaper shall be declared the official newspaper until the next biennial election and until a successor is chosen and the county auditor upon the canvass and return of said vote by the county canvassing board, at the time of canvassing other election returns, shall issue a certificate of election to such newspaper receiving the highest number of votes cast at said election."

The owner, proprietor or authorized agent of a newspaper owning such newspaper in North Dakota of one thousand dollars for the faithful performance of such duties of such newspaper.

"It is my opinion, based upon the above two sections that the newspaper chosen as the official newspaper by the electors on Nov. 2nd, hereafter the official newspaper as soon as the county auditor shall issue a certificate of election."

Minot, N. D., Nov. 10.—John C. Lowe, Minot attorney, elected district judge in the fifth judicial district last Tuesday, has started a $50,000 damage action in the Ward district court against Dr. Archie D. McCannell, of Minot. The complaint alleges that the defendant recently made statements in the presence of Arthur Harshman and others which were derogatory to Mr. Lowe. The complaint charges that the remarks were made when Dr. McCannell was discussing the criminal action which was made against Lowe just a few days prior to election. Lowe was arrested and bound over to the district court on a statutory charge preferred against him by Joy Eddy Newmark, a young girl who up until recently lived on a farm in McRae county near the farm on which Lowe spends the summer months.

Arthur LeSueur is attorney for Lowe, while Fisk & Murphy have been retained by Dr. McCannell. Lowe was endorsed by the Nonpartisan league in the recent election.

Tanlac and Gains Eighteen
Pounds

"I owe my present health, as well as my big gain of eighteen pounds, to Tanlac and I don't hesitate to give it full credit," said Niels L. Nelson of Nashota, Wis.

"I suffered for five or six years with my stomach and Tanlac is the first medicine that ever gave me any relief. Everything I ate soaked on my stomach, bloating me up with gas that caused my heart to skip beats and worrying me greatly. My stomach cramped me terribly and at times the pain was so bad I just couldn't straighten up. My appetite left me completely, I had to quit eating meat altogether and was losing weight continually.

"I had severe headaches, and at times I became so dizzy that I would stagger in walking. I had a terrible pain in the small of my back which was so bad that often I could hardly bend over. At night I could scarcely sleep, and in the mornings I was so miserable it was all I could do to get out of bed. Many a day I felt so bad I just couldn't go to my work at all.

"Tanlac began to build me up right away. I have taken five bottles now and my appetite is so good that I'm always glad to see meal-time come and everything agrees with me perfectly.

"I'm never bothered with bloating, headaches or dizziness, my back does not trouble me anymore and I never have a pang of any kind. I drop right off to sleep just as soon as I lie down, and I have so much strength and energy I can do as big a day's work as I ever could."

Tanlac is sold in Bismarck by Jos. Breslow, in Driscoll by N. D. and J. H. Barrette, in Wing by H. P. Higgins, and in Strasburg by Strasburg Drug Co. (Advertisement)

BISMARCK BOY SHOOTS WOLF NEAR THE CITY

Billie Ankeman Hero of Boys in Town for His Prowess in Hunting

SHOT WAS A CLEAN ONE

Billie Ankeman is the hero of the hour in town and every boy possessing a 22 rifle is eager to take points on wolf hunting from Billie for the reason that he has a buffalo wolf hide on his back to show for his prowess. In why it came about was this: The Ankeman and Dick Pinwarden Jr. often spend the week ends in the woods and the river bottom in quest of fun, and, incidentally, fame. One day one of the boys took the boys to spend the day, cooking their dinner over a camp fire as they are fond of doing. A bluejay made himself a nuisance in their neighborhood and they chased him about through the brush. Suddenly a huge wolf appeared trotting straight for them. Billie had a 22 rifle and Dick had just his hands in his pockets.

All the information they together had acquired on hunting had to be assembled while there was yet a little space between them and the wolf. Billie gave the order to lie down, which they immediately did.

Billie's father had been a trapper and true huntsman in the Canadian woods, up in the Moosejaw country, and he had often said that if you whistle when a wolf is running, he will stop to locate the sound. Billie whistled, the huge wolf did stop and turn his head to listen. Just in that brief instant, Billie shot him through the mouth. The ball lodged in a hunk. He ran a short pace and dropped.

There was Mr. Wolf, longer than either boy, for Billie is but sixteen and Dick is smaller than Billie. They were ten miles from home, and were not equipped for the emergency. Just as it happens in stories, trappers heard the shot, came to investigate and found the wonderful wolf shot and ready for skinning. The knife in the party was the kit knife used by the boys for dinner. One of the trappers was a skilled workman and it was no time until the beautiful skin was off and the boys ready to start on their glad ten mile hike for home. So they hiked.

OPERA IN EVERY CITY, HER AIM

NEW YORK. Madame Marguerita Sylva, international opera prima donna, is devoting her funds and her time to developing American grand opera. She hopes to have an opera house in every American city of more than 100,000 population and she says she doesn't expect to live to see the fulfillment of her dream, she does hope that the next generation will have opera in America as the present generation has it in Europe. Madame Sylva, said to be the greatest living Carman, has swelled the fund of her enterprise several times with the proceeds from the opera.

start on their glad ten mile hike for home. So they hiked. Billie has the skin, without a single blemish, and the boys have their record for bravery, skill and cool judgment without a blimie other. And this is the end of the prize wolf story of the Missouri bottoms these many moons.

GERMAN LABOR IS DEMORALIZED BY REVOLUTION

Berlin, Nov. 10. — A Brunswick jurist, Judge Kuleman, who for 10 years was associated with union labor as legal advisor, charges that German labor has been demoralized by post-revolution conditions and that it is now attempting in its "class egoism" to set up an oligarchy under which existence for the non-laboring classes would be intolerable. The description "free workman" he declares has come to mean a man who has no respect for law or order but who in fact believes he is a law unto himself, owing allegiance neither to the state nor to his own organization.

Labor leaders particularly are charged by Judge Kuleman in an article in the Junata Gazette, with failure to appreciate the value of keeping faith and the capitalist and labor have no longer any binding influence on labor. He believes "the tendency to make sudden demands which employers appear incapable of granting is deplorable" and tends to the great detriment of labor.

"As soon as the workman is dissatisfied about anything he makes the threat of a general strike" the writer continues. "Consideration of the question whether the difference could be arbitrated or whether the employer is to blame is bluntly decided." He believes the workman has so misused new-found authority and possibilities that on the whole he is worse off than he was before the revolution. He suggests that the situation may eventually develop anarchical conditions under which life would not be tolerable.

AIRPLANES FOR
STATE'S GUARD
UNDER NEW PLANNorth Dakota Wins Out in Lively Competition With Other States

NEW ORGANIZATION

Suggestion Made That Winter
Training Be Given in South
for New Guard

North Dakota's National Guard, under a new plan announced today by Adjut. G. A. Fraser, will have an airplane unit. The unit will consist of one observation squadron, of 31 officers, 132 men and 13 airplanes, an air park, composed of 3 officers and 172 men.

The competition for the aero squadrons in the Thirty-ninth division was keen. North Dakota and Minnesota being awarded the units.

Plans to organize the National Guard in North Dakota under the new plan announced at a conference held in Omaha, at which Adjut. Gen. Fraser and Major Harold Sorenson represented the state, will be put into effect immediately. There will be virtually no change in existing units, but the whole plan of guard organization is enlarged.

North Dakota is in the Thirty-fourth division, with South Dakota, Minnesota and Iowa, and these four states with Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri are in the Seventh army corps, and the eight states, with others, comprise the Third army.

North Dakota's units are as follows:

Division troops
1 Infantry regiment	Men 179
(Attached 20.)
1 Ambulance company	5
1 Hospital battalion headq.	10
1 Hospital company, motorized	171
Corps Troops
1 Battalion 155 howitzers, motorized	30
(Attached 5.)
2 Truck companies, artillery	10
1 Ammunition company, artillery	10
Army Troops
1 Battalion horse artillery	52
(Attached 19.)
3 Observation squadron	13
(Attached 4.)
1 Air park	17
(Attached 3.)
1 Veterinary evacuation hospital	24
(Attached 5.)

Peace Strength
The peace strength to which Adjut. Gen. Fraser will seek to bring the state guard is 3254.

The plans outlined at the Omaha conference are tentative to a degree, but it is believed by the militia bureau that Congress will authorize their completion.

A suggestion was made at the conference, which may be developed into the system of training, that the northwest troops engage in maneuvers in the south two or three weeks in the winter, it being held that men in the northwest, many of whom are engaged in agriculture, are better able to give the time to drill in the winter.

It is contemplated that the troops required under the allotment which are provided with equipment such as hospital equipment will also be drilled as infantry so that they may be used as infantry in emergencies.

Infantry Regiment
The regiment of infantry, under the plan, would be composed of a regular headquarters of five officers and three battalions, each having 15 officers and 477 men; battalion headquarters of 4 officers and 44 men each; three rifle companies of 3 officers and 100 men each; a machine gun company of 2 officers and 70 men; a howitzer company of 2 officers and 60 men; a headquarters company of 2 officers and 70 men; one administration company of 3 officers and 150 men; 1 chaplain and attached medical and dental officers and men.

About the only change made from the present infantry organization of the state is that there will be three machine gun companies instead of one, and nine infantry companies instead of twelve.

Review of Situation
A review of the guard situation, as given by the Adjutant General's office, follows:

"Under the provisions of the national defense act, as amended by the act of Congress approved June 4, 1920, the United States is now divided into nine administrative areas, which include the old departments and are officially known as Corps Areas. There is now a peace group and three army areas.

This the First, Second and Third Corps areas constitute the First Army area, the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth the Second Army area, and the Seventh, Eighth and Ninth the Third Army area.

It is now proposed to station in each corps area one or more regular troops of three Regular Army, National Guard or Organized Reserve divisions each, together with a balanced percentage of field army and general headquarters reserve troops. The plan is to have prepared counter plans in case of emergency.

Many flags will fly in recognition of the day. Services are to be held in many parts of the state. The state war mother requested that services be held by the war mothers between 10:30 and 11 a. m. on the day, and these will be held in many parts of the state. WHISKEY RING
BRAINS HUNTED
MADE MILLIONS"Master Mind" Said to Live in Luxury and Direct Great Operations

DALRYMPLE'S REPORT

Chicago, Nov. 10.—"Somewhere in Chicago" sits the man who is the brains of the great Chicago whiskey ring.

He lives in a comfortable apartment, which he uses also as an office. He is in almost daily communication by long distance telephone with Washington, Cincinnati and other cities.

This "master mind" has four chief lieutenants. Two live in Chicago. Two live in Washington.

Made $14,000,000
Some of them are well-known men. The commander-in-chief himself, though, is comparatively unknown. He is not a public man, nor a politician.

These five men—the real "high rollers" in a systematic booze traffic—have cleared up $14,000,000 in profits since national prohibition went into effect. Such is the story whispered in Chicago. It is a story that contains no names and no addresses. It may be of the finest foundation—but there are several people in Chicago who insist it is true. Reports concerning this "rotten million dollar clique" are significantly persistent.

There has been emphasis on the story the past week because of the activity of the federal grand jury probing the booze scandal and the resignation of Major A. V. Dalrymple, most famous supervising prohibition commissioner in the country.

Chief Is Worried
It is said the mysterious chief of the "fourteen million dollar clique" is worried about Dalrymple's confidential report, though he claims to have such tremendous influence that he cannot be "touched."

Major Dalrymple refuses to discuss his report. Commissioner Williams in Washington admitted its existence but went no further than a hint that it included "names of politicians and officials who attempted to block enforcement of the prohibition law."

It is significant that two leading enforcement officials have resigned in Chicago, said to be the distributing center of the nation's illicit booze industry. Captain Hubert Howard, state commissioner, resigned several months ago with the admission he was helpless and that he had turned down opportunities to make a million dollars "easy money."

Dalrymple Out Now
New Dalrymple, who hung on to his job of open opposition, has quit. Are they going to get the "high rollers"? Everybody wonders. Meanwhile you can buy all the booze you want in Chicago—and in most every other city.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 10.—Infants' rattles are henceforth to be classed as athletic apparatus by the Michigan state boxing commission. Tom Bickers, the commission's chairman, so decided when application for a sale of baby rattles was made by Supt. Montgomerie of the state school for orphans and abandoned children at Coldwater. Among the commission's duties the distribution among schools athletic goods purchased from a fund obtained from a percentage of boxing bout receipts.

The Coldwater requisition was the first to include athletic equipment for such young athletes but Bickers was quick to decide that baby rattles were athletic equipment.

SINK CONCRETE
BRIDGE PIERS
DURING WINTERWork on Bismarck - Mandan
Bridge Goes Steadily Ahead
in Spite of Conditions

NEW SUPERINTENDENT

Winter weather will not stop work on the Bismarck-Mandan bridge. Plans of the Foundation company to continue the work are successful.

Some damage has been done to the temporary structure of the bridge company by floating ice in the river, but a larger force of men are carrying the work on just the same as in good weather.

It is the plan to continue the building of the three piers, one on the Mandan side, one on the Bismarck side and one in the river, and to sink the caisson of the fourth in the river. The bridge company also has started work on footing of the concrete approaches on the Mandan side. It is the hope of the company to continue this concrete work all winter.

W. Chubbuck has assumed the supervision of the work for the Foundation company. Mr. Chubbuck came direct to Bismarck from Jacksonville, Fla., where he was working for the Mississippi Valley Bridge and Iron company. It was a marked change in weather conditions for Mr. Chubbuck to come from a tropical climate into the beginning of North Dakota winter, and he was feeling it pretty keenly today.

The construction company, which had difficulty in getting labor during the summer, now has plenty of men and is working a big force.

Much of the preliminary work consisted of materials to be used in the bridge work. The materials are on hand, the financing of the bridge work through the winter is arranged, and the work will go ahead as rapidly as the weather permits.

MAY ASK PAUSE
IN WITHDRAWING
FUNDS OF BANKInitiated Law Makes Drastic
Change Which May Be Accomplished Gradually

LAWS EFFECTIVE DEC. 2

Private Legal Notices May Be Published in Other Than Official Paper

It is probable that an appeal will be issued to counties, cities and school districts to "go slow" in drawing their money out of the Bank of North Dakota, as they will be permitted to do, when the initiated law approved by the voters becomes effective Dec. 2, if the canvassing board has completed its work by that time.

Although no official statement on the subject has been issued by the bank officials or the industrial commission, it is pointed out by some that the bank might be temporarily affected by the withdrawal of deposits were withdrawn in a lump sum. It would affect the distribution of deposits to banks of the state, most of the money being in banks on redeposit.

The present bank law provides that real estate loans may not exceed 30 per cent of the bank capital nor more than 20 per cent of its deposits. The bank has never loaned a maximum of real estate loans provided by law. It is probable some effort will be made to dispose of bonds and to make a real rural credits institution out of the bank.

What Law Says
The law initiated provides that "All state funds, and funds of all state penal, educational and industrial institutions shall be, by the persons having control of such funds, deposited in the Bank of North Dakota. It is not to be probable that this law will go to the supreme court and an effort made to have laws of school districts declared to come under the head of money of educational institutions.

Real Estate Loans
The law regarding real estate loans, which was voted on favorably by the people, says:

"Section 1. The Bank of North Dakota shall make real estate loans only to actual farmers who are residents of this state.

"Section 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

The intention of the measure was to prohibit the loaning of money on real estate to any person except an actual resident farmer of the state.

Private Legal Notices
Under the newspaper law approved by the voters, all private legal notices may be published in the paper in which the person making the notices desires.

When the law becomes effective on Dec. 2 private legal notices, for example, may be published in The Tribune or in any other local newspaper. The law was designed to limit the compulsory printing for official newspapers to the county and city official notices.

The law which the voters approved regarding the powers and duties of the superintendent of instruction will give Miss Minnie J. Nelson the power of supervising the certification of teachers, which was taken away from her, and which is now accomplished under the board of administration.

The section provides with regard to the superintendent of public instruction: "He shall have charge and supervision of the certification of teachers, standardization of schools and uniformity of text books, examination of records kept out of Miss Nelson's office after she is elected will now have to be returned.

Examination of Bank
How soon an examination will be made of the Bank of North Dakota depends on what course may be followed by the board as constituted under the law. The board is composed of the state auditor, attorney-general and secretary of state. These officials now are Carl Kositzky, William Langer and Thomas Hall. After January 1 they will be H. C. Folsom, William Lemke and Thomas Hall.

If the canvassing board completes its work by December 2, as it should, the board composed of Lemke, Kositzky and Hall would be charged with the duty of making an examination which they might do immediately.

Canvassing boards are meeting in all counties of the state this week. The boards were to have met yesterday. The Burlington county board was to meet today to go over the vote in that county.

TARPON FISHING HAS CHARMS FOR
SEN. HARDING

Point Isabel, Tex., Nov. 10.—President-elect Harding deserted golf for tarpon fishing again today, cancelling a ten-day appointment at the Brownsville Country club golf course in order to catch on the water. He has been fishing for the water, but today he was luckier. Yesterday a big tarpon landed him a staunch devotee of the sport, and the remainder of his vacation here he would give very little time to any other form of recreation.

Senator Harding is to be seen at Brownsville in an armistice celebration.

He was given the Cross of the Legion of Honor by France in 1917 for towing the disabled cruiser "Jeanne d'Arc" 600 miles to the Azores. O'CONNOR'S COST $690.00

Candidate Lists Pledges—League Tells of Secret Caucus

Pledge

Presidential electors "go by" in the campaign in North Dakota with least expense of all candidates, according to expense statements filed with the secretary of state as required by law. None of them spent anything.

None of the candidates who have filed statements say they spent more than $1,000 in the campaign. J. P. T. O'Connor, independent candidate for governor, spent $690, according to his statement. Governor Frazier's expense account has not been filed as yet.

Mr. O'Connor lists as expenses $100 for printing, $75 for livery, $50 for railroad fare, $50 for stenographic and clerk hire and $375 for other expenses. He lists as contributors to his campaign $25 from S. Clifford, $15 from J. Murphy, $50 from L. Niemeyer, and $100 from M. Murphy.

Cost Young $997
George M. Young, successful candidate for Congress in the Second district, filed the largest expense account of those thus far filed. He spent $997.51 to obtain the election of which postage amounted to $133.75. Miss Minnie J. Nelson spent $154.00 for railroad fare and $150 for hotel bills. H. D. Albert, of Langdon, candidate for representative, spent a total of $287.00. J. T. Nelson, candidate for commissioner of agriculture and labor, spent $109.74. Thomas Hall, successful candidate for secretary of state, spent $78.95; John Steen, successful candidate for treasurer, spent $25 as a campaign contribution. Carl Krutitzky, candidate for auditor, spent $224.17, and Dr. E. F. Ladd, successful candidate for United States senator, spent $154.00.

Charles M. Whitmer, of Oliver county, candidate for representative on the Nonpartisan league ticket, is the only one of the league candidates to put the secret caucus pledge in his statement under the heading of pledge.

He modified it, however, by saying merely that he promised "that I will stick to the N. P. league principle and principles and use my best efforts to further the interests of the people of North Dakota."

Success Cheapest
A peculiar feature of the statements thus far filed is that most of the candidates who were successful spent less money than the unsuccessful candidates. W. H. Stussman, high man for railroad commission, spent but $90. Among the district judges, Judge A. T. C. listed his expenses as $15. Charles S. Ego gave his as $63.37 and Judge J. A. Coffey spent $78.50.

L. E. Heaton, candidate for representative from Burleigh county, spent but $17.50 in his campaign.

"It is to the advantage of the contractor to pad payrolls, slight work, put too many men on the job, encourage loafing on the job, corrupt inspectors and time keepers, use help, use common labor and charge for skilled workmen, drag the work to make it last longer and add additional work to the contract."

The corruption of United States shipping board emergency fleet corporation employees and officials became the tendency under this practice.

Men Driven From Job
It was charged that "good men" were "heckled, insulted or even frightened off the work where they were not proved susceptible to such corruption."

The report dealt at length with the shipping board vessels, declaring that "the expenditures of millions of dollars were left in the hands of 'masters, chief engineers and stewards.'"

The report charges that "ships' officers were enabled by the fuel allowances made for each voyage to furnish with excess fuel, that they received for a full supply on bunkering companies."

It was charged that through political influence, ships had been assigned to companies in which officials of the shipping board who had the financial responsibility to insure safe and proper management and operation "got all tonnage applied for by that means."

While many of the government ships are making a profit, the report said, others are operating at a loss.

Contracting Counsel
In connection with ship building contracts and settlements, the report charged that "available and expensive ship building plants erected on 'land' owned or leased by the contractors in several cases, were not properly safeguarded as to title."

The report also charged that in some cases attorneys who represented the shipping corporation in drawing the contracts were "created by the contractors to assist them in obtaining a 'kick' out of the contract."

It was also charged that some companies "with the corporation of dollars."

POLITICAL PULL USED

Find That Some Pay-rolls Were Padded by Firms Which Repaired Vessels

New York, Nov. 10.—Individuals and corporations of no financial responsibility have been allocated United States shipping board vessels for operation, J. F. Richardson testified today when the Walsh committee resumed its investigation.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Charges that the action of the shipping board has resulted in an enormous waste of government funds is contained in a report submitted to the house committee on shipping operations, by A. M. Fisher and J. F. Richardson, who for more than a year have conducted an investigation for the committee.

The report, released for publication today by the committee of which Representative Walsh, Republican, of Massachusetts, is chairman, says that the investigators found evidence of graft in purchasing supplies for the shipping board operations, of corruption in officials of the shipping board emergency fleet corporation and of the use of political and other influence in the negotiation of contracts for the construction and allocating of the government-owned vessels.

Group Results
The investigators grouped their investigation under several general heads, representing various phases of the board's activities. They declare that improperly drawn contracts had cost the government a large sum, that some divisions of the board failed to cooperate efficiently and that others had failed completely to function properly.

The report charged that pay-rolls had been padded by some of the firms which repaired government-owned vessels and that there had been a heavy loss to the government in the theft of equipment from government-owned vessels and equipment.

Going into the matter of salvage of ship building plants, uncompleted hulls and materials and stores, the report alleged that it was asserted by persons in position to know that the sale of the "millions of dollars' worth of materials" owned by the fleet corporation had netted no more than 132 cents on the dollar.

TRIES TO BUY STORES
The report said that the "Barde company was trying to purchase under a blanket contract all supplies and stores of the fleet corporation and charged that one of the officials of this company was also an advisor to the shipping board's cancellation and return board."

It was alleged in the report that repair work on shipping board vessels was done on a basis of pay for workmen on the job at current wages plus 50 per cent for overhead and profit, plus 10 per cent of material cost to cover cost of purchase and profit to the contractor.

COOPERATION SOLVES PROBLEM IN CALIFORNIA

Thousands of Farmers Use This Method to Secure Free, Fair Markets

25 ASSOCIATIONS

Citrus Growers Alone Marketed $50,000,000 of Their Product Last Year

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 9.—More than half the farmers in California sell their products through co-operative marketing associations, according to statistics being gathered by attorneys for some of the organizations. There are about twenty-five active associations, these figures show, which in some cases, control as high as 90 per cent of their particular crop and which range in activity from mere sales agencies to organizations that pack, distribute and advertise their products and even possess lumber mills to make their own box shooks

Marketed 50 Million
The California Fruit Growers exchange, which marketed $50,000,000 of citrus fruits last year from the orchards of 12,000 members handling 70 per cent of the California orange and lemon crop is the patriarch of the association. It not only sells fruit but markets and distributes as well, and through its subsidiaries concern box shooks and other packing materials.

Among this other associations, with the number of members their volume of business last year and the proportion of the total crop they controlled, are: California Associated Raisin Company, 10,000 members, $33,000,000—85%; California Prune and Apricot Growers, Inc., 10,800 members, $22,000,000, 80 per cent; California Peach Growers, Inc., 7,500 members, $10,000,000 to $12,000,000, 75 per cent; California Almond Growers Exchange, 3,578 members, $5,000,000 to 80 per cent. The Central California Poultry Producers, Inc., who sold nine million dozen eggs last year claim to be the largest single concern in the United States handling poultry products, and the second largest in the world, being surpassed only by a Danish co-operative concern.

No Association
Hog raisers have no association of their own, but a marketing association of the farm bureau of seven counties in the San Joaquin valley sold $1,447,449 worth of hogs last year for growers of annual crops such as vegetables who can turn their land to other uses without loss or delay are about the only ones who have not been successful in forming organizations, the statistics indicate, although bean and lima bean growers have been able to support marketing associations. Potato and tomato growers' associations do not exist, although berry growers are organized and in central California have accomplished the feat of combining American and Japanese farmers in one concern.

Use Advertising
Many of the organizations spend large amounts in advertising. The raisin company spent $150,000 last year, the prune association $180,000, while 22 per cent of the annual citrus crop return is devoted to advertising and one per cent a pound of the almond exchange go for the same purpose. The value of vineyards, according to a statement from the raisin company, has increased from $300 an acre in 1913 to $1,000 an acre in 1920. Prune growers report and ad-

HAIL SEASON HEAVIER THAN YEAR OF 1919

Report Shows That Total Losses Sustained During Year Are 14,424

The hail season of 1920 has been rather severe in comparison with that of 1919, according to the preliminary report of Martin S. Hagen, manager of the state hail insurance department. This is shown by the fact that the department had reported 14,424 losses in 1920 as compared to 12,862 in 1919, or an increase of 1,562 losses, the report says. The fact that we have been able to secure the services of better adjusters and have supervised the work more carefully has made it possible to make fairer adjustments than even those of last year, and for that reason the total amount of indemnity allowed will be considerably less in 1920 than in 1919, though the number of losses was greater.

The number of acres insured in 1920 is about the same as in 1919, or 12,132,974 acres. All this is subject to the hail indemnity tax and, though it had been rumored that the tax would be greater this year, we are glad to be able to announce that the tax rate is identical to that of last year; namely, 25 cents per acre. This is in addition to the flat tax of 3 cents per acre on all tillable lands," the report continues.

The hail insurance fund receipts for 1920 show receipts on the tax of 27,872,395 cents, $30,201.95; 25-cent tax on 12,132,974 acres, $3,033,243.50.

Expenditures—payment of 14,424 losses, $3,472,830.42; estimated interest at 6 per cent per annum, $130,223.64; for anticipated abatements and refunds, and for maintenance expense, $260,590.29.

Mr. Hagen declares the ratio of overhead expense to receipts will be 2.85 per cent, and declares that the private company's overhead expense runs from 25 to 40 per cent as compared with the state 2.85 per cent.

25-CENT MEAL TO BE EATEN BY HOTEL MEN

New York, Nov. 9.—Hotel proprietors attending the fifth annual hotel men's exposition will partake of a 25-cent meal on Ellis Island this week on the invitation of Frederick Wallace, immigration commissioner. Reports to the hotel men that the island's chef could concoct a repast for that sum and still claim a profit is said to have prompted the invitation and also the acceptance.

Edward M. Tierney, chairman of the exposition committee, today recommended that hostilities cut the price of bridal suites both in order to encourage matrimony and as a part of the general price-cutting program.

MEN'S CLOTHING QUOTED CHEAPER TO SPRING TRADE

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Men's clothing for immediate delivery was offered at prices 10 to 50 per cent below present prices. Goods for spring and summer delivery were shown at prices 19 to 33 1-3 per cent under those of a year ago.

The occasion was the opening of the 13th semi-annual buying convention of the United National Clothiers' convention.

"The public is not buying, manufacturers and dealers are overstocked," said W. L. Mohr, treasurer and general manager of the association. Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 9.—A reduction of 33 1-3 per cent in the wholesale price of clothing is announced by one of Rochester's largest clothing manufacturing firms. The reduction is effective from Nov. 1 and applies to suits and overcoats. It is said the reduction, which is in addition to the 7 per cent cash discount, was from $33 to approximately $20.

Edison Was Right Again

THE prices of Edison Phonographs have increased less than 15% since 1914, and a substantial part of this increase is the 5% tax, which the Edison Laboratories pay to the Government. The Edison Phonograph of today is a better phonograph and a better value than the Edison Phonograph of 1914. On the other hand, the dollar of today is worth, in purchasing power, only a little more than half as much as the dollar of 1914. Therefore, if you buy an Edison Phonograph at this time, you are virtually buying a before-the-war value, with an after-the-war dollar.

Why it is that Edison did not increase his prices and how did he avoid the necessity of doing so? Any commercial agency and practically any investment banker can ascertain for you that the Edison Phonograph Laboratories were doing business, in 1914, on a narrower margin of profit than was true of any of the other established phonograph, or talking machine, manufacturers. How, then, did Edison manage to avoid an increase in his selling prices?

The story is dramatically interesting. The following is only the essence of it: When the United States of America entered the Great War, Mr. Edison dropped all his work at the Edison Laboratories, and enlisted in the army of America. Mr. Edison, who pitted himself so successfully against the world-famed German scientists, Cardinal Mercier, on his recent visit to America, credited Mr. Edison with a large share in winning the war for the Allies. The New York American of September 5th describes, at length, some of the inventions, which Mr. Edison developed and placed at the disposal of the Government. In this article, the New York American states that Mr. Edison appears to have been the moving spirit of the Naval Consulting Board of the United States.

When Mr. Edison gave up his own business for the business of the Nation, a very critical situation existed in his Manufacturing Laboratories, due to their inability to obtain various materials, and the necessity of finding satisfactory substitutes for such materials. If there was ever a time in Mr. Edison's career, when his personal attention to his business was required, it was when he went to war. Thomas A. Edison had reason to believe that he was risking enormous losses by deserting his business, at the particular time in question, but he did not hesitate, and his example had a remarkable influence on the men and women, who remained behind. From the humblest workman to the highest paid executive in the Edison organization, everyone seemed determined "to make good, while the Old Man was away." Vacations were passed up and doctor's orders were ignored by zealous employees, and, as a result, the Edison Manufacturing Laboratories were one of the few manufacturing concerns in the United States, where there was no loss of efficiency, during the war, and where there was, in fact, an increase in efficiency.

During the war, Mr. Edison spent most of his time on the sea coast or at sea. On those rare occasions, when he visited the Edison Laboratories, it was difficult to gain his attention, for more than a few minutes, with reference to business matters. He did, however, state that the Edison Phonograph was his pet invention and he hoped that his business associates would be able, in some way or other, to avoid any increase in price, and that, if there must be an increase, he wanted such increase to be just as small as it could possibly be made. Mr. Edison said: "I am willing to stand the gaff. Music is an important thing. Let us make it as easy as possible for people to have music in their homes in these nerve-racking days."

What was the result? The wonderful realism of the New Edison, "The Phonograph with a Soul," made it desired above all other phonographs, and its sale was stimulated by the fact that the increase in price was negligible. The demand soon far outstripped the supply. Overhead and sales expense were reduced to the minimum and, thanks to Mr. Edison's willingness to absorb a large share of the increased cost of manufacture, it was possible for the Edison Laboratories, by accepting a merely nominal profit, to avoid any substantial increase in the selling price of the Edison Phonograph.

It will be many years before the general level of commodity prices is as low as the present price of the Edison Phonograph. Leading bankers have expressed themselves as willing to lend money on Edison Phonographs, because they know the selling prices of Edison Phonographs are not going to be reduced. Let us reiterate that when you buy an Edison Phonograph today you buy a before-the-war value with an after-the-war dollar. If you have any fear that there may be a reduction in the prices of Edison Phonographs, we are prepared to give you full assurance on that point.

Increased Efficiency Imperative

M. R. H. HILL, Chemical Engineer of the Bureau of Mines, in discussing the future of gasoline says: "It is up to the refiners to extract more of petroleum's useful factors from the crude."

This he says can be effected through efficient management and by improved methods of cracking and blending.

Mr. Hill thus expresses the opinion which has dominated the policy of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) for many years and has enabled this Company to raise its efficiency peak year after year.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been a leader in developing processes to increase the yield of gasoline from crude oil.

The best known and most successful of its improvements is the Burton process, originated in the laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

Speaking of the Burton process, Mr. Hill says that "since it was first installed on a commercial scale it has produced approximately 40 million barrels of gasoline from heavy distillates, and has thus saved approximately 150 million barrels of crude that would have been necessary to produce an equivalent amount of gasoline."

This vast saving has been accomplished without sacrificing quality.

Red Crown, the motor gasoline, made and sold by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is acknowledged by petroleum chemists and other authorities to be the standard fuel for motor cars. It more than meets Government specifications, which require an initial of not more than 140 degrees F; 20 percent off at 221 degrees; 50 percent off at 284 degrees; 90 percent off at 374 degrees; and a dry point (complete vaporization) at not more than 437 degrees F.

During the semi-annual test conducted in July 1920, the average for Red Crown Gasoline showed an initial of 102 degrees F; 20 percent off at 210; 50 percent off at 281; 90 percent off at 387; and a dry point of 427 degrees F.

This shows an initial 38 degrees better than Government specifications, which means easy starting; 20 percent off at 11 degrees better than Government specifications; 50 percent off at 3 degrees better than Government specifications; and 90 percent off thirteen degrees higher than Government specifications, which is more than made up by the 10 degrees difference in dry point.

This proves that, notwithstanding the greatly increased quantity of gasoline which this Company is able to take from the crude, it has in no way sacrificed quality, and is another indication that the large scale operations of this Company have worked to the distinct advantage of every user of gasoline.

The Debs vote through the state shows a strong gain over the Socialist vote of four years ago.

Bank Legislation
Legislation may be necessary because of the success of the initiated measures, in the opinion of some Non-partisan league men. All have carried by big votes, probably from 12,000 to 14,000. They are effective Dec. 2, if the canvassing board has convened and completed its work by that time. It is expected that the board will have given the official vote in the state within 20 days.

The deposits of the Bank of North Dakota will drop materially, though the condition of the bank is not expected to be materially affected, because of the fact that most of the money deposited by local communities which they may now withdraw, is out on redeposit in banks.

Rumors have been abroad that a special session of the legislature would be called, but Governor Frazier denies that he is contemplating the calling of a session. The Governor went to Fargo today to speak at a "victory celebration" of the Non-partisan league tonight.

STATE BUREAU FOR FARMERS BEING FORMED

Representatives of 21 North Dakota Counties Are Meeting Today

PLAN IS OUTLINED

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 10.—Representatives of 21 North Dakota counties met at the North Dakota Agricultural college to organize a North Dakota Federation of Farm Bureaus.

Each of the 16 county farm bureaus in the state sent delegates and five other delegates attended from other counties in which farm bureaus are in the process of formation.

C. W. Gunnells, of Chicago, assistant secretary of the American Farm Bureau federation, outlined the policies of that organization at the meeting this morning.

Dr. E. F. Ladd, president of the agricultural college, said in welcoming the delegates:

"I do not believe it is the intention of the farmers to hold up the American people. They have a right to say however, 'my wheat cost me so much to produce, I will consider a much fair price and will sell it at that price'."

SELLING ORGANIZATION
Boston, Nov. 10.—The establishment of nationwide selling organizations, which shall fix the price of farm products if the farmer does not receive "the same pay for the same hours of work as others receive," was predicted today by Sherman Lovell, of Fredonia, N. Y., master of the National Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry, in opening the national convention of the grange.

"We are willing to have a fair understanding of values, the farmers receive the same price for the same hours of work as others receive—no more, no less, but we feel that this is the last call," he said. "If no attention is paid to this now by bankers, manufacturers, railroad and labor organizations, and if the government continues to use its great power to import raw material free of duty to reduce costs then the grange will be the first to help organize nationwide selling organizations to control the price of farm products."

"There is no threat to this—no will have been driven to self-defense to preserve ourselves."

VIRGIN ISLANDS WET

Eighteenth Amendment Has No Meaning in New Possessions.

Only Place Under the American Flag Where Prohibition Is Not Being Enforced.

San Juan, P. R.—Probably the only place under the American flag where prohibition is not now in force is in the Virgin Islands where, until Congress enacted new laws, the old Danish laws remain in force.

The colonial council of St. Croix has just passed a bill repealing former local legislation for that island which provided for local prohibition until a specified period after the ending of the war.

Similar legislation is pending in the colonial council for the islands of St. Thomas and St. John.

The treaty of sale by which the islands were transferred from Denmark to the United States provided that laws in force at the time of the transfer should remain in full force and effect until Congress enacted special legislation for the islands. This has not yet been done.

In the meantime the Constitution of the United States in all of its provisions is not applicable to the islands and the eighteenth amendment has no meaning there.

As a war measure the colonial councils, the local lawmaking bodies, passed prohibition acts to be enforced during the war. As a result St. Thomas where champagne sold for $1 a bottle and other liquors were equally inexpensive and the two other islands gradually became dry.

Merchants in St. Thomas whose business is largely that of supplying ships stores have contended that prohibition was one of their greatest handicaps, while the sugar makers of St. Croix were deprived of a lucrative trade in an important by-product of sugar when they were forced to cease making rum. With war prohibition removed by local legislation, rum making has already been resumed.

Indirectly, however, the Virgin islands are feeling the force of the United States prohibition laws.

Prohibition Director Donaldson has refused to permit the shipment of alcohol to St. Thomas from here to be used in the manufacture of rum unless manufacturers bind themselves to donate a share of their product so that it can not be used for beverage purposes. The great source of rum here is one of the other islands of St. Thomas and St. John.

RED CROSS DAY NEXT SUNDAY BY PROCLAMATION

Governor Frazier Issues Proclamation on Red Cross Drive

Sunday, Nov. 14, is designated as Red Cross Sunday in a proclamation issued by Governor Frazier. The proclamation follows:

"The American Red Cross as a wartime auxiliary to our military and naval forces performed a wonderful service. So indispensable did it become that with the signing of the Armistice its work was not ended, and so date there is still abundant opportunity and a large field for its successful operation.

Through its perfected organization, relief is being provided for the needy and suffering, health and social centers are being built up, and a program of Americanization is being carried out in many counties of our state. Red Cross nurses and social workers have been placed and are kept constantly busy giving instructions in public health work, emergency nursing and helping to solve the great social problems of the day.

The fourth annual roll call of the Red Cross opens on Armistice Day continuing through Thanksgiving Day and in accordance with the request of the National Red Cross I hereby designate and proclaim SUNDAY, NOVEMBER FOURTEENTH as RED CROSS SUNDAY. Also in consideration of the excellent work and constructive program of this great humanitarian organization I urge and commend that as far as possible each individual within the commonwealth become a member and take an active part in building up and maintaining the Red Cross in North Dakota."

RULING FIXES TIME OFFICIAL PAPERS START

Langer Says They Can Print Notices as Soon as County Auditor Gives Word

A new paper, successful in the contest for the selection of official newspaper in North Dakota, became the official newspaper as soon as the county auditor shall issue a certificate of election according to an opinion given by William Langer, attorney general.

Under chapter 186 of the 1919 session laws, which creates the state publication and printing commission and more especially section 4, which gave the commissioners of public printing the power to designate in every county of the state a newspaper which shall be the official newspaper it is provided that the paper designated shall be the official newspaper in each county in which it is designated until its successor shall be chosen as provided by law.

Continuing he said: "In chapter 187 of the 1919 session laws, which law provides for the election of official newspapers, section 4 provides as follows: 'Every county receiving the highest number of votes cast for official newspaper shall be declared the official newspaper until the next biennial election and until a successor is chosen and the county auditor upon the canvass and return of said vote by the county canvassing board at the time of canvassing other election returns shall issue a certificate of election to such newspaper receiving the highest number of votes cast at said election. The owner proprietor owning such newspaper shall thereupon send to the state of North Dakota of one thousand dollars for the faithful performance of such duties of such newspaper.'"

It is my opinion based upon the above two sections that the newspaper chosen as the official newspaper by the electors on Nov. 2nd, becomes the official newspaper as soon as the county auditor shall issue a certificate of election.

CANDIDATE FILES SUIT FOR $50,000 DAMAGE
Minot, N. D., Nov. 10.—John C. Lowe, Minot attorney, elected district judge in the fifth judicial district last Tuesday, has started a $50,000 damage action in the Ward district court against Dr. Archie D. McCannell, of Minot. The complaint alleges that the defendant recently made statements in the presence of Arthur Harshman and others which were derogatory to Mr. Lowe. The complaint charges that the remarks were made when Dr. McCannell was discussing the criminal action which was made against Lowe just a few days prior to election. Lowe was arrested and bound over to the district court on a statutory charge preferred against him by Joy Eddy Newmacker, a young girl who up until recently lived on a farm in McManis county near the farm on which Lowe spends the summer months.

Arthur LeSueur is attorney for Lowe, while Fisk & Murphy have been retained by Dr. McCannell. Lowe was endorsed by the Nonpartisan league in the recent election.

HAD TO PULL HIMSELF OUT OF BED EVERY DAY

Wisconsin Man Could Hardly Get up in the Morning—Is Full of Energy Since Taking
Tanlac and Gains Eighteen
Pounds

"I owe my present health as well as my big gain of eighteen pounds to Tanlac and I don't feel like to give it full credit," said Niels I. Nelson of Nashota, Wis.

"I suffered for five or six years with my stomach and I had the first medicine that ever gave me a relief. Everything I ate soaked on my stomach, bloating me up with gas that caused my heart to skip beats and worrying me greatly. My stomach cramped me terribly and at times the pain was so bad I just couldn't straighten up. My appetite left me completely, I had to quit eating meat altogether, and was losing weight continually.

"I had severe headaches, and at times I became so dizzy that I would stagger in walking. I had a terrible pain in the small of my back which was so bad that often I could hardly bend over. At night I could scarcely sleep, and in the mornings I was so miserable it was all I could do to get out of bed. Many a day I felt so bad I just couldn't go to my work at all.

"Tanlac began to build me up right away. I have taken five bottles now and my appetite is so good that I'm always glad to see meal time come and everything agrees with me perfectly.

"I'm never bothered with bloating, headaches or dizziness, my back does not trouble me anymore and I never have a pain of any kind. I drop right off to sleep just as soon as I lie down, and I have so much strength and energy I can do as big a day's work as I ever could."

Tanlac is sold in Bismarck by J. H. Barette, in Wing by J. P. Loman, and in Strasburg by Strasburg Drug Co.

BISMARCK BOY SHOOTS WOLF NEAR THE CITY

Billie Ankerman Hero of Boys in Town for His Prowess in
Hunting

SHOT WAS A CLEAN ONE

Billie Ankerman is the hero of the town in town and every boy possessing 22 rifle is eager to take points on wolf heads from Billie for the reason that he has a buffalo wolf hide on his wall to show for his prowess. In why it came about was this: The Ankerman and Dick Penwarden Jr. often spend the week ends in the woods and the river bottom in quest of fun and, incidentally, fame. One of the old of last week the boys took their hunch and hiked to Sibley, and to spend the day cooking their dinner over a camp fire as they are fond of doing. A blue jay made him self nuisance in their neighbor hood and they chased him about through the brush. Suddenly a huge wolf appeared, trotting straight for them. Billie had a 22 rifle and Dick had just his hands in his pocket.

All the information they together had acquired on hunting had to be as scrubbed while there was yet a little space between them and the wolf. Billie gave the order to the down, and they immediately did so. Billie's father had been a trapper and true huntsman in the Canadian woods, up in the Moosejaw country, and he had often said that if you whistle when a wolf is running, he will stop to locate the sound. Billie whistled, the huge wolf did stop and turn his head to listen. Just in that brief instant Billie shot him through the mouth. The ball lodged in a lung. He ran a short pace and dropped.

There was Mr. Wolf, longer than either boy, for Billie is but sixteen and Dick is smaller than Billie. They were ten miles from home, and were not equipped for the emergency. Just as it happens in stories, trappers heard the shot, came to investigate and found the wonderful wolf shot and ready for skinning. The only knife in the party was the kit knife used by the boys for dinner. One of the trappers was a skilled workman and it was no time until the beautiful skin was off and the boys ready to start on their glad ten mile hike for home. So they hiked.

OPERA IN EVERY CITY, HER AIM

NEW YORK.—Madame Marguerita Sylva, international opera prima donna, is devoting her funds and her time to developing American grand opera. She hopes to have an opera house in every American city of more than 100,000 population and while she says she doesn't expect to live to see the fulfillment of her dream, she does hope that the next generation will have opera in America. The present generation has it in Europe. Madame Sylva, said to be the greatest living prima donna, has swelled the end of her enterprise several times with the proceeds from the opera.

start on their glad ten mile hike for home. So they hiked.

Billie has the skin without a single blemish and the boys have their record for bravery, skill and cool judgment without a bluish other. And this is the end of the pizza wolf story of the Missouri bottoms these many moons.

GERMAN LABOR IS DEMORALIZED BY REVOLUTION

Berlin, Nov. 10.—A Brunswick jurist, Judge Kellman, who for 10 years was associated with union labor as legal advisor, charges that German labor has been demoralized by post-revolution conditions and that it is now attempting in its class against to set up an oligarchy under which existence for the non-laboring classes would be intolerable. The description "free workman" he declares has come to mean a man who has no respect for law or order but who in fact believes he is a law unto himself, owing allegiance neither to the state nor to his own organization.

Labor leaders, particularly are charged by Judge Kellman in an article in the Jurist's Gazette, with failure to appreciate the value of keeping faith with the industrial assets, that agreements between capital and labor have no longer any binding influence on labor. He believes "the tendency to make sudden demands which employers appear incapable of granting is deplorable" and reacts to the great detriment of labor.

"As soon as the workman is dissatisfied about anything he makes the threat of a general strike," the writer continues. "Consideration of the question whether the differences could be arbitrated or whether the employer is to blame is bluntly declined." He believes the workman has so misused new-found authority and possibilities that on the whole he is worse off than he was before the revolution. He suggests that the situation may eventually develop anarchical conditions under which life would not be tolerable.

A. A. OF E. AUXILIARY
A social meeting of the Auxiliary to the American Association of Engineers will be held in the Community room of the City library this evening. Mrs. W. F. McGraw is in charge of arrangements.

The Auxiliary is composed of the wives of engineers in Bismarck who are members of the national chapter of American Association of Engineers. Auxiliaries are formed in many cities of the United States, Minneapolis having a notably large and effective auxiliary. The purpose is to promote acquaintance of sociability among the wives of engineers, most of whom are, of necessity, from the field duty of engineers, comparative strangers in the communities in which they and themselves. Engineers, with their families, are detailed to projects in all parts of the country—sometimes for a few years, such as the Missouri bridge project, and often for a few months, as on state highway projects. The Auxiliary, by seeking out the families of engineers and bringing the groups together for social evenings, can do much to promote happier social conditions and therefore greater contentment in the ranks of this very important group of workers.

The meeting in the community room this evening will be the first social evening of the Auxiliary and their husbands since its recent organization at the home of Engineer Craig, in Person Court.

GYMNASIUM CLASS STARTED
The gymnasium class, initiated by the Business and Professional Women's club, is held regularly on Thursday nights at the high school gymnasium. The classes begin promptly at 7:15 in order to leave the members free to meet other engagements after 8:15 for the evening. They are not waiting for gymnasium suits, but are going to work in earnest, and they wear any comfortable garb that may be at hand until gymnasium suits can be secured. Miss Roberts is an experienced director of the work and the young women of the town look forward to a profitable and pleasant season of training. It is urged that all young women, whether members of the Business and Professional women's club or not, avail themselves of the opportunity for gymnasium training. This week the training will be held Friday night.

MRS. FIELDS ENTERTAINS
Mrs. P. R. Fields was hostess yesterday to the Tuesday Bridge club which meets for a social afternoon every two weeks. Three tables of bridge were played. Mrs. J. C. Taylor and Mrs. G. A. Husea won highest score. The women of the club aim to keep their social affairs most simple in arrangement, and so do not attempt special decoration schemes. They keep their refreshments within a service of two things, usually cakes and coffee. The members greatly enjoy diversion of these afternoons.

MRS. THOMPSON HOSTESS
On Tuesday p. m. Nov. 9, Mrs. H. A. Thompson entertained at cards. Four tables were playing progressive five hundred. Those present were Mesdames L. M. Parker, Arthur Gussner, Roy Joslin, E. J. Schultz, E. A. Brown, Oscar Henderson, C. McLean, O. F. Johnson, L. A. Larson, C. R. Kostitzky, F. H. Gilman, Austin Logan, and Miss Mary Thompson. Mrs. E. A. Brown won the prize, a beautiful cut glass dish. Delicious refreshments were served.

ACTRESS THINKS PERHAPS SHE WAS CHINESE IN SOME PREVIOUS EXISTENCE

American Women Should Practice Oriental Calm If They Would Have Real Poise and Charm, Says Florence Reed.

New York, Nov. 10.—"American women lack poise. They do not understand how to conserve their magnetic spark by the repression of emotion."

Florence Reed, picturesque star of "The Mirage," playing at the new Times Square Theater in New York, says this is so.

"This is the reason," she explains, "why American women are less charming and magnetic than their European sisters—particularly the women of the Orient."

Value of Repose
Those who have watched Miss Reed's swift transition from her emotional role to the excitedly poised woman she is away from the stage, feel she herself has learned the value of repose.

"If I were asked what the women of the Orient need more than any one thing," she says, "I would say the personal magnetism that is born of poise. And there is no other nation from which they can learn this as well as from China. The Chinese have forgotten more than the west ever knew. Their wisdom is centuries old. Philosophers even further back than Confucius builded their ideas on the theory of mind-control. And for centuries the Orient has lived its philosophy."

Miss Reed's surprise is obvious when she is asked how she, an American girl of American ancestry and tradition, knows so much of the wisdom of China.

Belongs to Orient
"Why, I belong to the Orient," is her answer. "Back in a previous existence I was Chinese. I know it not only because I am steeped in Chinese ideas and ideals, but because my memory frequently catches distinct impressions of a pre-existence. You see, I believe in reincarnation. I have spent most of the money I have made in the theater in the creation of a Chinese atmosphere in which to live. When I leave the theater and stop in to my home I slip into the tradition of that inscrutable land to which I am sure I belong. Some day I shall be reclaimed by it entirely, for my soul is not of the Occident."

mission and Mrs. deJong entertain in compliment to Henry Van der Beek, who leaves shortly for a visit to his former home in Holland. Mrs. deJong will be assisted by her sister, Mrs. M. C. Hunt, of Fargo, who will be an out of town guest at the party.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They do not injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Headaches, "dullness," and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "drowsy" and "heavy." They clear the clouded brain and "kick up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

WILL ERECT MEMORIALS FOR FIVE PILGRIMS

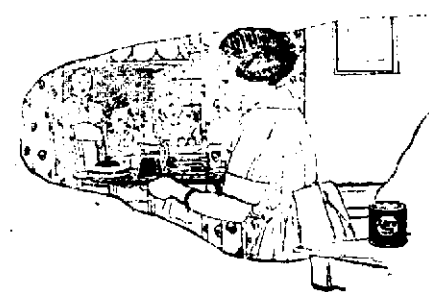

Boston, November 10.—The erection at Provincetown and Boston of monuments to the five Mayflower passengers who died at these places will be the contribution of the Massachusetts Society of Mayflower Descendants to the celebration of the tercentenary of the Pilgrims' landing. A tablet will be set in a boulder at Provincetown and another will be placed on the building in Spring Lane, Boston, now occupying the site of the last home of Mary (Chilton) Winslow, who is said to have been the first girl passenger to land at Plymouth.

Four passengers died during the December days of 1620 while the Mayflower lay at anchor in Cape Cod Harbor, now Provincetown. Two days before the little ship set sail for the permanent settlement at Plymouth, James Chilton, who had been one of the signers of the famous Mayflower Compact in Cape Cod Harbor, died. A day before the little band had left, Mrs. Dorothy Bradford, first wife of Governor William Bradford, by accidental drowning, and the death of Edward Thomsen, a child, and James Moore, a child.

Mary Chilton, who was the daughter of James Chilton, sailed on the Plymouth with her mother, and struggled through the trying times of the Pilgrims' early days. She later married John Winslow and before 1639 they removed to Boston, where she died in 1679, having survived her husband by five years. She was the only Mayflower passenger to become a resident of Boston.

POPE PATRON OF THE ARTS

Rome, Nov. 10.—Although the popes of today cannot afford to spend enormous sums on artists, sculptors and decorators as did the pontiffs of the renaissance, Benedict XV is a patron of the arts, and has allowed two artists to have studios and work on the grounds of the Vatican. They are Quadroni, the sculptor, who at the Pope's expense is modeling a more than life-size statue of the Cardinal Rampolla, for his monument in the Church of Santa Cecilia and the artist Antonelli, who is painting a huge picture of the promulgation of the code of canon law.

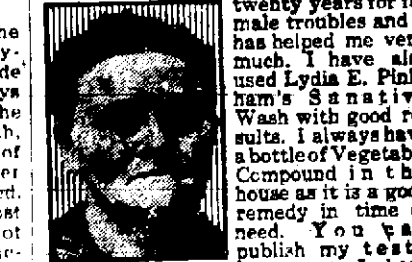

The picture of Benedict XV seated on a throne, receiving from his worker, Cardinal Gasparri, the volumes containing the newly codified canon law, represents 52 figures, all portraits of the ecclesiastic and lay court of the pontiff. There are to be seen 10 cardinals, the Pope's Major-domo, Monsignor Tacet, his Master of the Chamber, Monsignor de Samperi, the Grand Marshals, who have charge of great Vatican ceremonies and wear the picturesque renaissance dress of red and doublet; the commanders of the Noble Guard, the Swiss Guard, and many others, so the picture will have considerable historic interest in the future.

Past Popes
Round the enormous frame there are portraits of past popes who have specially interested themselves in the codification of the canon law, Pius X, Innocent VIII, Innocent III, Alexander II, Gregory IX and Benedict XIV.

WHEN THE CLOUDS GATHER

"Birth" of Thunderstorm, as Seen by Airmen, Is a Remarkable and Beautiful Spectacle.

Have you ever been in the air to watch a thunderstorm grow? asks Popular Mechanics Magazine. If you were merely on the ground looking up, then you saw only the bottom of it. The airman is the one who sees just what is happening in a thunderstorm.

A few hours before the sky was, perhaps, perfectly clear. All at once a few white patches become visible to the eye and if they quickly begin to dot the whole sky, it is a warning sign. Each fluffy cloud represents the point where moisture rising from the earth has begun to condense. The rapid formation of the clouds means upward heating of the surface of the earth and the presence of lots of moisture in the air. The clouds grow together, forming a continuous rolling mass of dense vapor, cutting off the sky's view of the earth.

So far the storm has only been threatening. The clouds have begun sideways as grow as they can; now they begin to grow heavier. The heated air from the earth below pushes through the heavy layer and bulges upward. Higher and higher it is pushed while more and more moisture condenses, and this great heaving mass of vapor, sometimes three or four miles high, has become a thunder cloud. Its bulging top is called a thunder peak or thunder head, and they are responsible for the lightning and the heaviness of rainfall, and the hail we sometimes have in midsummer.

The energy of a thunderstorm is amazing. A single great cloud may contain billions of pounds of water vapor. The flashes of lightning from cloud to cloud are sometimes 20 miles in length, and when we stop to think that it takes a current of 15,000 volts pressure to produce a spark an inch long, we can only wonder at the immense amount of electricity involved in a single flash. Sometimes the wind from a thundercloud, or the squall, as it is called, is violent enough to level trees and small buildings, and is properly called a tornado. There is a big difference. A tornado is a violent whirlpool of air that sweeps across the country and twists off trees and roofs in its path. The wind from a thunderstorm blows straight away from the storm and never twists.

Broadly speaking, there are three general stages in the development of a thunderstorm. There must be strong currents of moist air rising from the earth, as indicated by the appearance of the white patches of cloud. This condition must continue until the sky is covered. And lastly, the force of these upward currents must be great enough to push the clouds up into thunder heads. A thunderstorm then results.

London, England—Discovery of the hull of the Mayflower, the ship in which the pilgrim fathers sailed to America, is claimed by Dr. Bodel Harris, chairman of the English Speaking Union, according to the Daily Mail. Dr. Harris will reveal details of the secret at a conference to be held at Plymouth.

Meanwhile, however, the newspaper reports that the timbers, including oak beams supporting the roof, found in a barn adjoining an inn called Old Jordan's hotel, at Chulfont, St. Giles, Buckinghamshire, are considered by Dr. Harris to have originally formed part of the hull and deck of the Mayflower. Some of the beams, which are worn and wormeaten, bear marks indicating they might formerly have held ship's rivets and tackle.

There is a local theory, says the paper, that a Quaker formerly lived in the neighborhood who was a professional shipbreaker, selling ship timbers to farmers of the surrounding country. It has been suggested that he broke up the Mayflower and sold the timbers to the owner of Old Jordan's hotel.

No proof of this vague tradition is offered by the Mail.

Last Night's Dreams

—What They Mean

DID YOU DREAM OF HENS?

THIS is not a common dream but it is a most favorable one, particularly of that generally beneficent character which appertains to nearly all bucolic visions. Dream-hens and dream-chickens are equally of fortunate omen.

If the hens are making that peculiar noise called "singing" then is the dream more than ever propitious, as it foretells thrift, many children and domestic happiness. If you see a brood of chickens instead of hens it is true that you will probably have many petty cares and worries before you will attain your good fortune, but you will eventually get there and all your worries turn out to your advantage.

Any one about to embark in a business venture attended with some risk should by all means dream of chickens, as it shows that his venture will turn out successful beyond his expectations.

For a young unmarried woman to dream of an old mother-hen surrounded by her chicks is a sign that she will be married before the chickens have grown up to henhood, and the hens about as rapidly as she in a dream a hen with a brood of chickens about her denotes that there will soon be a marriage in the family. It is but fair to state that most authorities made it a prerequisite for success in a business venture after dreaming of chickens that the dreamer should have with him plenty of determination.

If your dream-hens are running about cackling as if they had just laid one of those eighty-cent-a-dozen eggs we read about it shows that something will occur to mar your happiness—probably the price of eggs will go up still farther. Nor is it good luck to dream of killing a hen.

History

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

HISTORY is a marvelous Teacher. From her pages speak events, experiences and thrilling deeds—all products of the human brain.

You are now playing a part of the future History of the World.

Even the humblest man or woman has his part to play. And the part played must needs be recorded.

The work of your days and life—whether for good or ill, in its final summing up—is as sure to mark or influence some phase of the entire History of the World.

Yes—you are now playing a part of the future History of the World.

It is the realization of this truth by men and women that inspires some to become great and notable while others remain obscure. For just as soon as people wake up to the fact that responsibility presses down upon them, they begin to draw upon their Reserve Power. And it is Reserve Power that helps make History fascinating.

You are now playing a part of the future History of the World.

It is not necessary, however, nor is it possible for us all to become notable in History. History is universal, and so is the mind that makes up the human soul. You—doing your work in the best way you know how—are as great an element in History as Alexander or Washington, or Cromwell or such as they. Study History. It will arouse you to big deeds. Live as you would like to have History say you lived.

FIRST BALL WAR IS RECALLED AS LEAGUE EMERGES

First One Was in 1911 — Ban Johnson Weathers Many Storms

Chicago, Nov. 10.—The ensuing baseball war which began last fall around Pres. Ban Johnson and the American league and has taken three of its clubs to the personnel of the new national league formed here today brought forth reminiscences from old timers of the last baseball war which broke out in the spring of 1914 and lasted two years.

It was early in 1914 that the Federal league was organized and it was fought not only by the major leagues—the National and American—but by all the minor leagues.

The total cost of that war, which finally was settled early in 1916, never has been stated by those involved but it is believed that somewhere between $5,000,000 and $4,000,000 was dropped by club owners on both sides.

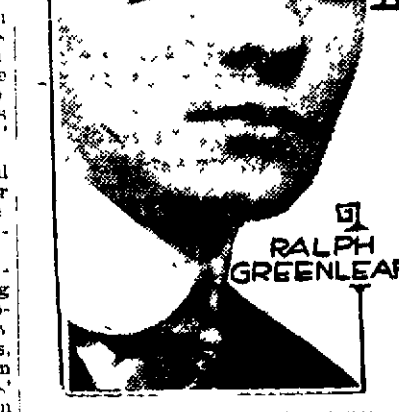

The league was organized here with James Gilmore as president, Charles Weegham and Wm. Walker both stockholders today in the Cubs were principal owners of the Chicago club. Phil Ball, now owner of the St. Louis Browns, was the principal "backer" for the St. Louis Federal.

President Gilmore then interested Robert Ward of New York, together with men in Pittsburgh, Baltimore, Indianapolis, Kansas City and Buffalo. Thus the league was launched.

It was a harvest for the ball players. Many who had been receiving salaries of about $1,000 a season procured contracts either with the new organization or with their own clubs, for twice that amount. Injunction suits were common and attorneys' fees were tremendous. Construction of new ball parks cost fortunes. Seven of them have been idle since the war was settled after the 1916 season.

In the 90's the National league was a 12-club organization and after a few unsatisfactory years decided to return to an eight-club organization. This made the opening for the expansion of the American league, then a minor body. It went into the abandoned cities of the National—Cleveland, Baltimore and Washington—and invaded Chicago, later going into New York, Philadelphia, Boston and St. Louis.

DON'T SHOOT "POOL" ANY MORE; MORE POLITE TO SAY "BILLIARDS"

RALPH GREENLEAF

Chicago, Nov. 10.—You never hear any more of the boys playing "pool." They play billiards—straight billiards—three cushion billiards or pocket billiards.

A few years ago the term "pocket billiards" was substituted for "pool." But it took a long time to supplant it. Now the new game is the fashion. "Pool" is obsolete, the word is used largely in reference to gambling.

Big Tourney

Which all leads up to the greatest systematic campaign now on in Chicago in popularizing pocket billiards. Tournaments have been held before, and there have been championships. But never on such a scale as this.

Ten thousand dollars in prizes have been hung up. Twelve men from all parts of the country who thought an entrance fee began playing a preliminary tournament the middle of October, each man playing every other entrant.

He's just a kid, this national pocket billiard champion—but he is as handy with the cue as Babe Ruth is with a willow. "Bossy" Ralph Greenleaf, announced the national title a year ago. He'll have been competing on when he defends his title in the national tournament open at Chicago Nov. 8.

There are six preliminary tournament prizes: $1,000 for the winner, $500 for second, $700 for third, $500 for fourth, $200 for fifth and $200 for sixth.

The three leaders have started the final series in competition with Ralph Greenleaf, the 21-year-old youth of Monmouth, Ill., who last year won the national pocket billiards championship. Each of the four will play every other entrant.

For the Winner

Winner of the final tournament will receive the national championship emblem, a prize of $1,500 and a "salary" of $2,400 for playing a few exhibition games. Second place will bring $1,000, third $500 and fourth $250. Should an entrant win the preliminary tournament and then also take first place in the finals he will not only be the new pocket billiards champion but he will take in a total of $4,900. Not so bad for a cueist—to say nothing of the big money a new champion can make in a national tour.

AIRPLANES FOR STATE'S GUARD UNDER NEW PLAN

public in a major emergency of quick and orderly expansion to the strength required for the initial mobilization for war but without the addition of a single tactical unit.

In other words all the military units required in the first mobilization will be provided either in actual organization of a peace strength sufficient for proper training, or in more or less skeletonized organizations composed of organized reserves.

It has been deemed advisable by the war department to begin the reorganization of the National Guard immediately and a table of tentative allotments has been prepared showing the number of troops to be organized in each state under Section 62 of the national defense act as amended which requires a proportion of 200 men for each Senator and Representative in Congress, and a number to be determined by the President for each territory and the District of Columbia, with a proportionate annual increase until 800 men per Senator and Representative has been reached which minimum is required under the statute by June 30, 1924. If the provisions of this law are fulfilled, a total strength of approximately 427,000 men will be provided as the peace organization of the National Guard component of the army.

Plan for Development.

The plan for the development of the National Guard furnished to Corps Area commanders represents the work of a committee of the war department general staff composed of Regular, National Guard and Reserve officers who served in the army throughout the war and who represent wide and broad experience in National Guard affairs.

This committee made an exhaustive study of the problem with regard to the perpetuation of the numbers and designations of the combat divisions of the American Expeditionary forces, and of the actual number of troops stationed in the several states prior to Mexican border service, the number sent to the border and the number called from each state into the service of the United States and later drafted for the World war.

The tentative National Guard allotments made by the war department comprise for each corps area one or more tactical divisions, with appropriate percentages of the troops required for the organization of army corps field army and general headquarters reserve troops.

It is realized by the war department that the number of National Guard units allocated to the several corps areas may at first glance appear amiss, but they provide only the tactical units required in the general scheme of defense to absorb the minimum strength directed in the national defense act to be reached by June 30, 1924.

Policy of Department

The policy of the war department will be to give every assistance possible to state authorities in the solution of the problems which may confront them during the reorganization, and it is contemplated that corps area commanders will confer with state authorities with a view to recommending to the war department changes in the tentative state allotments which may be considered desirable, and such changes as may be approved will be incorporated in the final allotments before their issuance, for the guidance of all concerned.

It is contemplated that troops required under the allotment which are armed with weapons not susceptible to use in state emergencies will be Impressive ceremonies were held in London and Paris today, the people of the French and British nations celebrating the second anniversary of the ending of the world war and paying tribute to the men who sacrificed their lives during the struggle. The body of an unknown British soldier was buried in Westminster Abbey with the honors of a field marshal.

King George governmental chiefs and relatives of missing soldiers witnessed the interment.

In Paris the body of a French soldier taken from a nameless grave at Verdun was laid to rest under the Arc De Triomphe. President Millerand and three French marshals—Joffre, Foch and Pétain—stood by the open grave.

50,000 OF GERMAN STAFF WITHOUT JOBS

Former Officers Discharged Armistice Day Without Any Occupation

Berlin, Nov. 11.—Many of the 50,000 former German officers discharged since the signing of the armistice have joined the great army of unemployed in Germany, a few have gone to work at hard labor and others are trying to make small pensions pay for the expensive necessities of mere existence.

Officers belonging to old aristocratic and wealthy families are in no better situation than their comrades who relied for a living upon their army pay. They have long since disposed of most of their personal property and it is not uncommon to see one of them, suppressing his pride, offering to some foreigner a family heirloom for enough money to pay a grocery bill.

Dulce Hard Labor

Those who are doing hard labor must work half a day for the price of a pound of meat and all day for a pound of butter. A number of them have been unable to buy civilian clothes and are working in uniforms thin and frayed by much wear.

The wives and sisters of some of these men have gone into the shops where they earn 350 marks a month, a sum which a guest frequently pays for a single meal. The widow of a colonel who was killed at the front is supporting four children on a pension of less than 700 marks a month.

Pension is Inadequate

Former soldiers, and particularly the wounded whose pensions are inadequate to supply them with food, have been hard hit. Day and night they may be seen standing on the streets with cap in hand, begging, or uniforms, or parts of uniforms, and some of them, to incite pity, exhibit their wounds.

A party of Americans walking down Unter den Linden one night saw a former soldier stagger and fall to the pavement, unconscious. City physicians who examined him said he had fainted from hunger. Later it was learned that too proud to ask alms, he had gone for days without food.

When a purse of a few marks was collected for him he accepted it and thanked the donors.

MEMORIAL TO GEN. GRANT IS ABOUT FINISHED

Statue Cost $250,000 and was Eighteen Years in Making

Washington, Nov. 11.—Eighteen years in the making, a memorial to General U. S. Grant is nearing completion here and probably will be unveiled before the end of the year. It is in the form of a magnificent equestrian statue of bronze, the second largest of its kind in the world, mounted on a granite pedestal and flanked on the left by a caisson of a group of cavalry and on the right by a group of artillery, both groups done in bronze. Two huge lions in stone at the foot of the pedestal complete the memorial.

Cost $250,000

The equestrian figure stands 16 feet high, weighs 10,700 pounds and cost $250,000. The memorial is located in the Bonaparte Gardens at the foot of the capitol and congress has approved the removal of a section of the iron fence on the east front of the gardens to admit the statue and to provide space for spectators at the unveiling ceremonies.

Authority for the creation of the memorial was given by Congress on February 25, 1901. The completion for the statue was held in 1902 and the award was to Henry M. Shrady, a noted sculptor, of Elmford, N. Y., whose design was selected by a jury consisting of Augustus Saint-Gaudens, Daniel Chester French, Daniel H. Burnham and Charles F. McKim. The pedestal was designed by Edward Pierce Casey, of New York, associated with Mr. Shrady, and was completed and put in place in 1906.

Shipped in Sections

The equestrian statue has just now been finished, however, and was shipped here in sections by motor truck from New York City.

The memorial to the famous general and 18th President of the United States will bear no inscription. According to members of the Fine Arts Commission, who recently approved the statue in its complete form, a member of the Grant Memorial Commission had composed a lengthy inscription, but after careful consideration of officials of the commission and the office of public buildings and grounds deemed an inscription unnecessary.

New York Plans Gigantic Improvement on the Hudson River Water Front

TAKE TEN YEARS TO BUILD

New System is to Consist of Wide Piers, Sips and Marginal Streets, With Warehouses and Tracks Where Available in Rear.

New York.—The greatest water front improvement here in 50 years involving the removal of 32 antiquated piers along the Hudson river and the erection in their stead of 18 new and vastly larger piers of latest design has been planned by Murray Hall, commissioner of docks, and approved by the sailing fund commission.

The improvement will cost $50,000,000, and will require ten years to complete. Work is expected to be started next spring.

This, with the proposed ventilation tunnel to New Jersey, is expected to solve New York's West side dock problem. The new water front system is to consist of wide piers, slips at marginal streets, with warehouses and tracks where available in rear.

Will Pay Out in Four Years.

"The cost of construction is expected to be paid for itself within four years," said Deputy Dock Commissioner Michael Cosgrove. "A permanent sea wall has been built along the West street, no rock will be consumed to a depth of 40 feet, at most of the real estate is owned by the city."

"These new piers will increase the pier-storing area 50 per cent if the new pier only one story," continue Mr. Cosgrove. "But because of the high value of this water front it will be uneconomical to stop even at two stories. They will have the modern appliances for rapid handling, including electric cranes, hoists and rollers of all kinds."

"The present lower North river water front is just what it was in 1871. Its slips are so narrow there is no room for them at once for two big steamships. To afford relief the water front must be deepened to permit the larger steamships to extend farther outwards. The more these big ships become, because boats have been continually growing larger."

La Guardia Lays Project.

"The new plan," said President F. H. La Guardia of the board of water supply, "is to have 18 piers, from 500 to 1,025 feet in length, in place of the 32 obsolescent structures, which are a disfigurement to the city. Between each pier there will be a maximum dockage space of 300 feet and a minimum of 250 feet. Two of the new piers will be 100 feet wide, seven 150 feet and nine 125 feet."

Along New York's water front the dock commission already has under way other projects under contract amounting to $20,000,000.

Pulitzer Trophy Will Be Contended for Next Thanksgiving at Mitchell Field

AIR ARMADA TO COMPETE IN CONTESTS

New York, Nov. 11.—An aerial armada greater than any ever before assembled for a race will compete for the Pulitzer Trophy Thanksgiving Day, starting and ending at Mitchell Field, Mineola, New York. Forty or more airplanes with speeds exceeding 100 miles an hour are to participate in the 160-mile flight over a closed triangular course.

Eighteen army airplanes and eight representing the navy already have entered according to the Aero Club of America, which will conduct the race. Sadi Locoigne, winner of the Gordon-Bennett trophy contest at Paris may be a contestant, and each of the American airplanes entered in that international speed race is expected to be in the starting line-up at Mineola.

Aviation organizations of foreign countries have expressed interest in the coming contest, and inquiry from the French Aero Club indicated its desire to enter one or more "ships."

Award Liberty Bonds

The Pulitzer Trophy, donated by Ralph Pulitzer to the Aero Club of America, is to be competed for annually, the coming race being the first. Gold, silver and bronze plaques have been hung up for winners of first, second and third places, and in addition, nearly $4,000 in Liberty Bonds is to be awarded pilots of craft which perform best in machines of various classes.

Free-for-all is the type of race it will be, but each plane must have an air speed greater than 100 miles an hour as judged for the start of the race, and the factors of safety, visibility and maneuverability are to be considered by the judges before entrants can start.

Four 40-mile laps will be embraced in the 160-mile triangular course with the turns at Wantagah and Babylon, Long Island.

TRAIN TIME ON N. P. THE SAME DURING WINTER

Winter Schedule is Confirmed by the Main Offices

STUDY WEATHER MAPS

The schedule of Northern Pacific trains will not be changed this winter. Official confirmation of the winter schedule, carrying the same train numbers and time of arrival and departure has been received in Bismarck. The severe weather of the last few days has considerably affected the schedule, particularly the trans-continental trains, many of which run late. The railroad officials study the weather map carefully these days in an effort to guide the movement and equipment of trains in accordance with the necessities of the weather. Many double-headers have been passing through Bismarck. Contrary to the general belief, an extra engine is not always added to a train in the winter time because of the difficulty of pulling the train. Frequently it is added more to provide necessary additional steam heat for the passenger cars than to provide motive power. All the Pullman cars are heated by steam drawn from the engines. The extra engines are frequently put on trains on the basis of the weather bureau reports, before a cold wave has struck the territory through which the train is to pass. The railroad officials also watch the weather map closely to prepare methods of handling perishable and other products. It is reported, though not officially, that the N. P. is retrenching, as are

MANDAN VOTES DOWN COAL YARD

Mandan, Nov. 11.—By a vote of 619 to 501 the question of the city of Mandan embarking in the coal business and establishing a municipal coal yard, under the statute which gives the state and political subdivisions the right to enter any line of business was turned down at the special election yesterday.

The proposition was fathered by the central labor body, following a similar move in the city of Fargo. The question was not submitted to the voters in Fargo it being held the petitions did not receive a sufficient number of signatures. Four candidates in the field for members of the city commission brought out a heavy vote for what might be considered an uninteresting election, a total of 1089 votes being cast, 627 men and 462 women. Nelson Luther was successful, having a large lead over all other candidates. His nearest opponent M. S. Lang receiving 282 votes to 458 for Luther.

URGES REPEAL OF PERSONAL TAX IN STATE

Two Corporation Taxes. Corporations, it is pointed out, are subject to a tax of 3 per cent of their net earnings under the income tax law; to a tax under the capital stock law; and all of their real and personal property is subject to taxation. Mr. Wallace declares that "personal

FEEDS 30,000 ORPHANS

LULA RAE DRAKE

N. E. A. Staff Correspondent. NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Worrying over the high cost of living, Think of Lula Rae Drake, who has 30,000 mouths to feed. During the war Lula Drake was in Italy and a famous Italian doctor took her to an orphanage and showed her thousands of babies. "All these babies will have to die," the doctor said to her, "or there isn't milk to feed them." "They shall not die," she replied. She took it upon herself to see that 30,000 Italian war orphans were fed. She organized the American Free Milk & Relief for Italy. The money is raised by monthly entertainments and by subscription. Her headquarters are in the Hotel Vancouver.

property of all kinds with the exception of the personal property of utilities and with the possible exception of live stock, is grossly under-assessed."

He says that "the assessment of household goods, clothing and several other classes of property at the present time is a mere pretense" and adds that "under our present system of assessment, whose foundation stone is an underpaid assessor who devotes only a short period of time each year to his very important duties it is impossible to secure a fair and equitable assessment of personal property."

It is pointed out that the money and credits tax was taken off by the legislature because of the needs of the state for outside capital, but the expectation of the legislature that the income tax law would take the place of the money and credits tax was erroneous.

Property Tax System Breaks. "The general property tax as applied to personal property in this state has broken down," says the tax commissioner. "It cannot be said that as applied to real property, the system has broken down, but the results obtained are generally grossly unfair and unjust, due to the fact that the initial assessment, as made by local assessors and as corrected by the local boards of review, is carelessly and inefficiently performed and due to the fact that the assessor is incompetent to value much of the property he is required to place on the assessment rolls." After citing this condition, the tax commissioner recommends the passage of a county assessor law. In case the personal property tax were abolished and income tax rates raised to make up the loss the tax commissioner "believes it would be advisable to apportion the income tax to the counties and local districts." He suggests that if the personal property tax is abolished it would be necessary to tax certain public utilities, including express and sleeping car companies on a gross earnings basis.

A tax limitation law, called into being one in New Mexico is recommended. The present tax limitation law enacted in 1919, is held to be extremely complicated and difficult to interpret. After recommending that the tax commission or state board of equalization pass on all proposed levies in excess of the limitation, it is suggested that the local authorities have the right of appeal to popular vote.

Limitation suggested. The following limitations of taxation are recommended: State, 1 mill (fixed by constitution); county, 6 mills; township, 5 mills; city and village, 4 mills; school, 10 mills.

The tax commissioner says it also should be provided that no levy shall exceed 10 per cent of the amount of assessed valuation of the previous year.

The six per cent tax on gross earnings of "every freight line and equipment company carrying on business in the state" is held to be badly constructed, and it is said it is doubtful if any companies can be charged under this law. Clarification is urged. A revision of the law providing dates when public utility assessments shall be made is recommended.

Make Two Reports. Regarding the capital stock tax the report says: "Under our present laws, an income tax report and a capital stock tax report are required from every corporation engaged in business in this state. Each corporation must also make a similar report to the federal government. Very frequently the cost of securing expert assistance to make out these reports amounts to more than the tax, and the capital tax law is characterized as 'defective in several respects.'"

Several different kinds of taxes on corporations serve no good purpose, but, on the contrary, the cost of administration is practically doubled while an unnecessary hardship is imposed on the taxpayer. It is stated. Proposed rates of income tax, if the legislature abolished the capital stock tax, it is recommended that the corporation income tax rate be increased to 3 1-2 per cent, the additional half percent to compensate for the loss of the capital stock tax.

Higher rates on personal income taxes are recommended as follows: On first thousand of taxable income 1 per cent. Second thousand, 1 1-2 per cent. Third thousand, 2 per cent. Fourth thousand, 2 1-2 per cent. Fifth thousand, 3 per cent. Sixth thousand, 3 1-2 per cent. Seventh thousand, 4 per cent. Eighth thousand, 4 1-2 per cent. Ninth thousand, 5 per cent. Tenth thousand, 5 1-2 per cent. All over 10,000, 6 per cent.

The tax commissioner holds that all income from property located in the state should be taxed, regardless of whether the owner is a resident. Salaries income from land contracts, mortgages, stocks, bonds, etc. should be subject to tax income from mortgages secured on North Dakota property should not be exempt. He holds the most unpopular feature of the present income tax law is that dividends received from a corporation already taxed are subject to individual income tax resulting in double taxation.

The income tax law should be amended to include all losses actually sustained during the year in which actions entered into for profit. The tax

Escaped an Operation

There is nothing in the world a woman so much fears as a surgical operation. Often they are necessary, but often not; and many have been avoided by the timely use of that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you are suffering from some dread ailment peculiar to your sex, why not profit by the experience of these two women whose letters follow?

These Two Women Saved from Operations.
Cedar Rapids, Ia.—"After the birth of my last child, I had such painful spells they would unfit me entirely for my housework. I suffered for months and the doctor said that my trouble was organic ulcers and I would have to have an operation. That was an awful thing to me, with a young baby and four other children, so one day I thought of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how it had helped me years before and I decided to try it again. I took five bottles of Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and since then I have been a well woman, able to take care of my house and family without any trouble or a day's pain. I am ready and thankful to swear by your medicine any time. I am forty-four years old and have not had a day's illness of any kind for three years."—Mrs. H. KOENIG, 617 Ellis Blvd., Cedar Rapids, Iowa.
Sandusky, Ohio.—"After the birth of my baby I had organic trouble. My doctor said it was caused by too heavy lifting and I would have to have an operation. I would not consent to an operation and let it go for over a year, having my sister do my work for me as I was not able to walk. One day my aunt came to see me and told me about your medicine—said it cured her of the same thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and they have cured me. Now I do my own housework, washing and ironing and sewing for my family and also do sewing for other people. I still take a bottle of Vegetable Compound every spring for a tonic. I recommend your medicine to others who have troubles similar to mine and you can use my letter if you wish."—Mrs. PAUL PAPPENFUS, 1325 Stone St., Sandusky, Ohio.

WOMAN TAKEN BACK TO FACE A SERIOUS CHARGE

Mrs. Eva Albrecht has been taken back to Mohall by Sheriff Seefeld of Itasca county, to answer a charge of kidnapping her own child. According to the sheriff, Mrs. Albrecht and her husband separated months ago and made an agreement to place the child in a woman's home. Mrs. Albrecht, he said, came to Bismarck but returned several days ago and left with the child. Theodore Koffel sought a writ of habeas corpus for the woman but Judge Nuesse held the warrant for the woman's arrest was regular and refused to entertain Koffel's legal action.

Straw Vote.

The Rexall straw vote taken in the state and nation correctly reflected the trend of the voting. All states went as the straw vote indicated, except Tennessee and Oklahoma were classed as "doubtful" in North Dakota the straw vote was 9-7 for Harding and 3-510 for Cox, according to figures given the Rexall drug store, and this represents the ratio of voting.

ARMISTICE DAY
What has become of the old-fashioned man (and woman) who celebrated Armistice Day by blowing a raucous horn for seven consecutive hours and musing up the streets with waste paper?
Surely he must be old-fashioned, for it seems an age ago since he (and we) were guilty of such fatuous childishness as a celebration of what we conceived to be the greatest event of history—the winning of the great war.
Not that we were particularly blameworthy. Rather, that is the pity of it. Why is man so constituted that he has no adequate vent for his highest emotions? Or why is he not so cultivated that he could find such a vent?
Doubtless at such a time, we all felt the impulse to shout in one ocean-to-ocean chorus a great paean of rejoicing. We felt the inner desire to leap and dance and give expression to our joy in some beautiful figure of physical rhythm. We wanted to exclaim in the sonorous language of the Hebrew prophets, the organ voice of Milton or the grand chant of Shakespeare's verse.
But we were chained by the limitations of our commercial, work-a-day existence, which had had no training in Expression. And so we formed little lock-step parades, we hallooed a little, we rang bells and blew penny whistles and made all sorts of discordant and unmeaning noises and we made as much muss for the street-cleaners as possible.
And we were all a little ashamed of it, and a little rebellious that we had never been taught to express ourselves.

Bryan voted the straight Democratic ticket, but he sure kept the boys guessing.

PIN MONEY
Wives ought to be real partners with their husbands. They should be financial equals as well as political equals. They should have an allowance at least, and not be ground down to almost begging for "pin money." That's what a lot of women believe. Yet the probabilities are that some millions of them have to do that very thing.
And that brings one around to a discussion of just what "pin money" is and where the term originated. Pins were an invention of the fourteenth century. Yes, but the fellow who made them was, for some reason or other, allowed to sell them but on two days of the year, the first and second of January.
Hand-made, pins were high in price. None but the wealthy could buy them. And it became a custom for money to be given to women at their marriage to be used for the purchase of pins—just pin money.
Pins grew cheaper, and the law fixing their date of sale was thrown off, but the custom of calling it pin money, when small sums were given to women for personal expenditure, like the pins themselves, stuck.
Wives, real leaders of thought think, they are entitled in these advanced days to much more than pin money. A fifty-fifty division would be more nearly the proper thing.

The merry Kerry dancers seem to be stepping to the music of machine guns these days.

WHAT CAUSE IT?
Cox was defeated April 6, 1917.
The date America declared war? Yes.
Weren't Americans justified in declaring war? Undoubtedly.

Didn't the American people support the war loyally, enthusiastically, whole-heartedly, non-partisanly? All true.
Yet America didn't want to go to war. America had convinced herself she could keep out of war. In the national election of 1916, no party stood for war, no candidate committed himself to the position that we ought to go to war. And so, although in 1917, Americans knew they were justified in making war and practically every American convinced himself that we ought to be at war, as we were, just the same there was this underlying psychology of the year before and just as soon as the war was over, it re-asserted itself, even though no one gave it utterance.
The war, as far as America is concerned, was fought for an ideal, but even though man achieves an ideal, it is hard for him to realize it.
Frank knew she had won the war, because the Germans were driven from her soil and she put in a claim for a large indemnity. England knew she had won the war, because her ships again sailed the seas and brought the sorely-needed food and supplies to save her people. But America had no material symbol that she had won anything.

War prices, war taxes, war restrictions still prevailed and it was chiefly by those that the great bulk of Americans realized the war.
Comparatively few were touched by the actual grime and sweat and blood of the mighty struggle, so that when Americans looked for a release from something, or for a reward for something, behold, there was done!
"All the more glory to America, then!" the patriot exclaims, and he is right, but man is so constituted that he cannot live in a state of high exaltation indefinitely.
America blazed with an idealism during the war. As soon as the war was over, a psychical reaction had to come. It is human nature.
The aftermath of war was irksome to nearly everyone. Everyone hoped to escape this irksomeness through a change. This change they have made by an overwhelming majority.
The turkey is a foolish bird. He spreads his fan-tail and thinks he's camouflaged.

THREE GILDED BALLS
There they hang, three golden balls, just outside and above the pawnbrokers' shops. Sometimes frowned upon, as a matter of fact the pawnbroker frequently is of the greatest aid to individuals of the community. The poor and the oppressed can get money of him as a loan on goods that would have little chance for quick sale. And it is only as a last resort that the average man or woman finds himself in the pawnbroker's shop.
Money-lending as a business was first undertaken by the Italians, and the people of Lombardy proved highly successful at it. In Florence the great Medici family made the loaning of money on chattels their only means of livelihood.
It happened that the coat of arms of the Medici family showed three gilt balls. Others, noting the success of the Medici family, also began pawn-broking. They adopted the gilt balls as the sign of their business, "stealing the Medici family's stuff," in the vernacular of the street.
The woman who made all her Christmas presents last August sits around now and tells about it in the most aggravating way.

THE CALIFORNIA LAND LAW
The "initiative measure" submitted to the voters of California recently is in form a project of law to extend and strengthen the Alien Land act of 1913. To "all aliens eligible to citizenship under the laws of the United States" it guarantees full rights to acquire, possess, enjoy and transfer real property. This, of course, does not include Japanese. They come under the head of "all other aliens," mentioned in Section 2 of the proposed law, whose rights to buy and hold real estate are limited to the terms of "any treaty now existing between the Government of the United States and the nation or country of which such alien is a citizen." This at once raises the question whether the subsequent restrictions on Japanese land owning in California are in conflict with American treaty obligations. That they are not, there is good Japanese authority for maintaining. Nor do they go counter to international law. If they did, the similar statutes of Japan against land-holding by aliens would be called in question.

The statement on this subject issued by the State Department on the eve of the election takes no ground either for or against the California proposal. It merely calls attention to the delicacy and importance of the matter. This is proper enough, and its motive was doubtless to keep the friendly record straight with the Japanese authorities. Negotiations with them are already under way, and it is hoped that an amicable agreement will be reached. The true course for Japan was indicated in June by the Japanese editor of The Japanese Review of International Law, published in Tokio, when he said that the anti-Japanese legislation of California was not to be dealt with by Japan "as a legal question," but by "political and diplomatic methods."—New York Times.

VICTORY MEMORIAL
By Dr. James I. Vance.
On the Mall, between the Capitol and the White House, on a site granted by Congress, the people of America are to erect the National Victory Memorial Building to commemorate the services and sacrifices of the Americans who helped to win the World War.
The plans for this noble building have been selected by the National Fine Arts Society from a large number submitted by the foremost American architects.
The Memorial will contain one of the largest auditoriums in the world, having a seating capacity of 7,500, besides a number of smaller halls. Every state and territory will have its own chamber, and the leading patriotic organizations will be provided with headquarters in the building.
The building is not only to be erected, but endowed, so that its adequate maintenance shall be guaranteed for time to come, the funds being raised by state appropriation, subscription from organizations having an honor roll, and individual gifts.
The Victory Memorial Building should make an irresistible appeal to the people of America. Surely we cannot do too much to honor the memory and herald the heroism of the American soldiers in the World War. The story of what they did is a chapter of undying fame, and will enrich the annals of this nation as long as the flag flies.
They entered the conflict at its supreme crisis, and they entered with such daring, they fought with such skill and courage, they died with such abandon, that from the day the Stars and Stripes appeared among the colors of the allies, the doom of Teuton aggression was sealed.
I am not unmindful of the magnificent valor the French had shown; nor of the way, during those long, hard years, the British bore the brunt of battle. America has only cheers for its brave allies. It is honor enough that the soldiers we sent overseas fought so well as to prove themselves not unworthy a place in that glorious line.
But it is ours to keep alive the story of American arms. It is our high privilege to hand down to generations that are to come the story of the glory of the men of this generation who served and sacrificed, who fought and died to keep freedom alive in the earth.
This is what the Victory Memorial on the Mall at Washington will do. Even if we could, it will not let us forget. And the sight of it will fire the heart with the flame of true Americanism.

TWO YEARS AWAY
By Edmund Vance Cooke
Armistice Day
Two years away.
And still with a wavering mind,
The poised pen waits
And hesitates
And the treaty is still unsigned.
Armistice Day
Two years away.
And the war-doubt still obscures
And the tangled skein
Of its strands remain
While the Armistice still endures
Armistice Day
Two years away.
And such is our right, no doubt:
That we, who have been
The last to get in,
Are the last in getting out!

STOMACH UPSET?
Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets
That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.
PEOPLE'S FORUM
Editor The Tribune
In connection with remarks on the Nonpartisan league women's voters' school in your election issue there appeared these words: "Nonpartisan league workers were stopped from distributing liquor at the polls." There has been argument as to whether this was an error or whether it was a slam against the women. Would you please answer?
—A Reader.
The word was obviously a typographical error. League workers were stopped from distributing literature at the polls. These workers were not women. Neither did the women distribute liquor. There was a lot of liquor flowing on election day, and the Nonpartisan league state's attorney should have been active to punish the offenders, whether leaguers or anti-leaguers.

Millions for a New Stomach
One of the greatest American millionaires said to his physician, "A million dollars, Doctor, spot cash and no grumbling, for a new stomach," and then the sick man groaned and turned away. All his wealth could not make him happy or contented, for happiness largely depends upon digestion. Without health where does happiness come in? After all the stomach plays a great part in everyday life. Without a healthy stomach and good digestion our blood is thin, watery and poor, our heart action is weak, our liver does not do its duty, and man is miserable and unhappy. Prevent disease by putting the house in order and strengthening the system against the germs of disease.
Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., years ago understood diseases and their prevention, and he discovered certain roots and herbs which were nature's remedies, and succeeded in putting them up in a form that could be easily procured at the drug store (liquid or tablets). This he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This Discovery gives no false stimulation because it contains no alcohol or any narcotic. It helps digestion and the assimilation of such elements in the food as are required for the blood. It gives to the blood the food elements the tissues require. For over fifty years it has enjoyed the confidence of the American public. Try it now!

DIVER RESCUES GIRL IN AUTO
Fancy being placed, in a bridal gown, in a limousine and then being plunged with the car into deep water. Add to that the anxiety of waiting for a diver to come and carry you to safety, and you have a mental picture of the plight of Miss Mary Christensen.
Miss Christensen is a motion picture actress and has an important part in "Bride 13," a William Fox serial that abounds in action and thrills. In the first episode of "Bride 13" Miss Christensen, known in the picture as Eleanor Storrow, is captured by a band of pirates in her machine, which is driven over a wharf into a bay.
Near by is a submarine manned by pirates. Director Richard Stanton, whose chief aim in life is realism in pictures, staged those scenes so that the audience sees Eleanor go off the wharf into the water and then sees her struggling in the car beneath the surface.
From the black hulk of the submarine a diver puts forth in helmet and leaded boots. He goes with painfully slow steps toward the submerged limousine, opens the door and lifts Eleanor out.
Then he traces his steps, enters the airlock in the submarine, and with his burden makes his way into the interior of the underwater craft.
It is a remarkable dramatic bit of motion picture action, and may be seen at the Eltinge Theatre, beginning tomorrow.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly
The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply ready and quick to use.
You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too. Children like it—and it is pure and good. Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.
And as a potent medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.
Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membrane. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

HONORS TO BE DECIDED AMONG BIG TEN TEAMS

Minnesota Out of Running Because of Defeat to Wisconsin Last Saturday

ILLINOIS LOOMS UP

Macalester Has Not Lost a Game During the Entire Season of Football

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 11.—Titular football honors in the Big Ten Conference will be decided in the annual battle between Illinois and Ohio State, a week from Saturday, as the result of last Saturday's play.

Both Ohio State and Illinois came through with wins last week, the State defeating Michigan 14 to 7, and Illinois snatching a victory in the game with Chicago by a field goal when the ball struck the cross bar and rolled over for a 3 to 0 victory.

Minnesota is hopelessly out of the conference running, with two games to be played to complete the schedule. Wisconsin's 3 to 0 victory last Saturday gave the Gophers a mark of four conference defeats and no wins for the season.

Next Saturday, Minnesota meets Iowa, with the hope of wiping out defeat administered by the Iowa team during the past two years. Minnesota loved a stronger team against Wisconsin than at any other time this year. With Ruben back in the game and Oss going as he was last Saturday, Minnesota's offense will present a problem to Iowa.

Meet Saturday

Wisconsin and Illinois meet next Saturday. Wisconsin slid through the Minnesota game to a 3 to 0 victory without showing scouts from Illinois and Chicago anything, but a hard smashing backfield which is also able to run ends behind the best wall of interference seen on the Minnesota field in years. NEW YORK—Georges Carpentier wound up "round one" with a flourish. Before fighters battle in the squared circle there's always a preliminary squabble of terms and such-like in the "articles of war." At left, above, is shown Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, watching Georges Carpentier, French champion, sign his name to the agreement that binds the two to fight for the world title some time between March and July next year.

shown by the Badgers was nothing more than any conference team is supposed to have. The game with Illinois is expected to develop all the playing ability of both teams.

Ohio state takes a rest Saturday in preparation for the final game with Illinois. Should Illinois lose to Wisconsin, Ohio State can claim the championship before the Illinois game is played, on a percentage basis.

Hamline vs. Carlton

In the Minnesota college conference, St. Olaf staged a comeback against St. Thomas last Saturday, winning 6 to 0 and dragging the Cadets out of the conference race, leaving only Carlton, Macalester and Hamline in the running. The three championship possibilities were not in action last Saturday, and with a two week preparation behind them, it is expected that the play next Saturday will develop the best football seen on college fields this year.

Carlton meets Hamline at St. Paul. Both teams are strong with driving power enough to score if given an advantage. In the games played this season both teams have shown many flashes of real football, and Saturday's game is expected to develop the best either coach has to offer. Hamline has one conference defeat to its credit, while Carlton will get into action with a clean slate.

WHEAT COST PRODUCTION MEETINGS WILL BE HELD IN THE COUNTY

One at Still and One at Baldwin to Discuss What It Costs the Farmer to Produce

(By G. W. GUSTAFSON, Co. Agent)

Two meetings are scheduled for Burleigh county to determine the cost of producing wheat under our conditions. One of the meetings will be held at Still Thursday evening, Nov. 11, and the other at Baldwin Friday evening, Nov. 12.

These meetings of the farmers of these communities have been called by County Agent Gustafson. They will be in charge of Rex E. Willard, farm management specialist of the agricultural college. The average cost of raising an acre of wheat in North Dakota in 1919 was $2.75 per bushel. This cost was based on the figures of over 300 farmers of the state growing wheat under very divergent conditions.

For the first time farmers of Burleigh county will determine the cost of producing wheat under our own conditions. It may cost more or less, but every farmer in these respective communities should plan to attend one of these meetings and give his ideas and experience.

Over thirty silos have been erected in Burleigh county during the year. These are monumental milestones in the progress and development of a permanent system of agriculture in our county.
